HANDS OFF IS WILSON POLICY

NO RECOGNITION IN MEXICO UNTIL THERE IS STABLE GOVERNMENT.

CABINET IN ACCORD

CONFERENCE WITH AMBASSADOR IS NOW AWAITED.

FRIENDSHIP AT MATAMORAS

Constitutionalists Call on American Consul Johnson and Pledge Their Good Wishes at This Time.

Washington, July 18.—Secretary Bryan's policy of lecturing on his vacation time involved the senate in a bitter controversy today. It began when Senator Bristow, ignoring the defeat of his resolution, directed at Mr. Bryan's action, insisted upon being heard in severe criticism of the cabinet officer.

Before the debate ended charges and counter-charges between senators on the two sides of the chamber brought the senate to a high pitch of excitement. Senator Ashurst produced an old letter of Senator Bristow's which he declared indicated that Mr. Bristow in 1906 had been perfectly willing to take a federal position and devote only part of his time to it.

Senator Bristow retorted with the charge that Senator Ashurst had sent private telegrams that should have been paid for from his own pocket, a charge denied by Senator Ashurst, but which Senator Bristow agreed to prove by producing original telegrams that had been paid for out of senate funds.

Personal Accusations Frequent. From these personal accusations the debate went into the general field of public lecturing and writing. Democratic senators called attention to the outstanding platform work of Senator Bristow and many others to the newspaper writing that Senator Bristow had done during the last Baltimore convention. The Kansas senator emphatically declared that he had never neglected the duties of his office.

Secretary Bryan authorized the statement that he would cancel any lecture engagement which would conflict with the conferences next week, and the president will have with Ambassador Wilson. Some of the members of the cabinet were not inclined to think any action would be taken after Ambassador Wilson's conference. They reiterated the belief that until appearances of peace were in sight formal recognition would probably be withheld.

In response to Consul Hamm's request for protection for Americans in the Durango section, the state department has demanded action from the Mexican federal authorities. The department went further than usual in that it requested the federal government to dispatch troops from Durango.

FRIENDSHIP IS PLEDGED.

Constitutionalists Call on American Consul Johnson. Matamoros, Mex., July 18.—A demonstration was held here this afternoon to offset recent anti-American demonstrations in Mexico City. Eight hundred constitutionalists troops were drawn up around the Hidalgo plaza, amid a large gathering of the populace, being addressed by their officers. This was part of the program for commemoration of the anniversary of the death of Benito Juarez, the great Mexican patriot.

Proceeding from the plaza to the street in front of the American consulate, the troops were drawn up and gave three vivas for the American people, the American government and the city of Brownsville.

Major Mujica, chief of police of General Blanco, addressed Consul Johnson in a speech deprecating severely the anti-American demonstrations in Mexico City. He assured Americans that this government's refusal to interfere in Mexico is appreciated by the entire constitutionalist following, declared the constitutionalists would soon establish a constitutional government in Mexico which would respect and protect the rights of Americans and be worthy of recognition by the United States.

Consul Johnson thanked the constitutionalists for their expressions of good will toward Americans, and promised he would inform his government of the sentiments expressed by them.

Col. J. Caballero of the constitutionalist army returned here this afternoon, bringing his family from Jimenez, the scene of recent constitutionalist victory. Mrs. Caballero, her three daughters and a son had been held prisoners at Jimenez by the federalists for several weeks, but were released when the federalists were defeated there last Monday.

Thirty federal prisoners taken at Jimenez were brought here this afternoon. The constitutionalists report 59 federalists killed. They brought a number of wounded constitutionalists also to the Matamoros hospital.

To Use the Indians.

El Paso, July 18.—General Francisco Villa, constitutionalist commander in Chihuahua, told an American newspaper Monday that 500 Yaqui Indians would be used in the attack on Juarez. Villa has set no date for the attack.

Federal forces, commanded by General Pascual Orozco, yesterday defeated rebels under Colonels Herrera and Chao near Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, capturing many prisoners, according to a telegram from General Mercado, federal governor of Chihuahua, to Juarez authorities. The telegram stated that Herrera was wounded.

Constitutionalists of the Ortega command at Guadalupe engaged a federal scouting party thirteen miles down the river from Juarez shortly before daylight this morning, while protecting the smuggling of 40,000 rounds of cartridges from the American side. Captain Pilar of the Ortega detachment told newspaper men that the smuggling expedition was successful.

MARINES AND SAILORS RIOT TO PUT DOWN THE RED FLAG AFTER SPEECH BY DANIELS

Seattle, Washington, July 18.—Big crowds of sailors from the Pacific reserve fleet at anchor in the bay, aided by hundreds of men and boys who came down town to join in the Golden Potlatch, Seattle's annual celebration, attacked the Socialist and the Industrial Workers of the World headquarters tonight, sacking the buildings and dumping the furniture into the streets.

Two distinct parties made the attack. The first, in the northern part of the business district, wrecked the Socialist headquarters, near Fifth avenue and Virginia street.

The second, in the southern part of the downtown section, attacked the Industrial Workers of the World headquarters, dumped the furniture into the streets and set a bonfire of it. A provost guard of fifty men was sent ashore from the warships to quell the disorder, but at 10:30 o'clock 200 civilians, headed by a dozen sailors carrying aloft the Stars and Stripes, charged down Fourth avenue from the waterfront, toward the city center.

Two policemen smiled complacently upon the wreckers. The sailors tore the signs from the front of the building and broke them to pieces and then started to drag the furniture and books into the street, but the policemen stopped them.

The sailors were an Industrial Workers' meeting place. A second party of men from the Pacific reserve fleet attacked the big Industrial Workers' headquarters in the Washington street in the southern part of the city. The contents of the buildings were dragged into the street and a bonfire made of them.

A provost guard of fifty men from the fleet was hurried ashore in cutters to arrest all of the men ashore. Secretary of the Navy Daniels was dining on the cruiser West Virginia, the guest of Admiral Reynolds, at the time the rioting began.

About a dozen sailors, all youngsters, were in the first wrecking party that got under way. They were aided by several members of the World, but the sailors were the main force. The men in uniform and scattered them. The men shouted to the policemen, "Your mayor won't do anything to protect the flag, so we are saving your city."

A young civilian who had been endeavoring to incite the sailors kept shouting to them to "go and get Mayor Cottrell."

No arrests were made. During the administration of Mayor Geo. Cottrell, all street speakers have been given full license to speak as long and loudly as they chose, provided they did not block traffic or display the red flag. The Industrial Workers of the World have held meetings every night in three public squares. The meetings generally have been orderly.

During the Golden Potlatch celebration hundreds of men from the Pacific reserve fleet were given shore leave and yesterday many soldiers from Fort Stevens were in the city.

COMPERS WAS OFFERED BRIBE

TO DESERT CAUSE OF LABOR AND AID MANUFACTURERS, MULLHALL TELLS COMMITTEE.

WITNESS GETS WEARY

SO LOBBY COMMITTEE ADJOURNS UNTIL MONDAY MORNING.

CLAIMS HE IS INTIMIDATED

By Representative of National Manufacturers' Association—To Resume Story.

Washington, July 18.—S. Wood McClave, Republican candidate for congress in a special election to be held in the Sixth New Jersey district next Tuesday, came to Washington tonight and told the Senate lobby investigation committee that Martin M. Mulhall, late "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers, had perjured himself in his testimony before the committee.

McClave denied emphatically that Mulhall had raised or spent money for him, had managed his campaign or been his close companion and associate during his fight against William Hughes for the Sixth district nomination in 1910.

Mulhall, the witness swore, came unknown to him in his office in New York City in 1910, introduced himself and said he wanted to help him. "It was as if we were going to get the nomination," he quoted Mulhall as saying, "and I want to know how you stand on public questions."

McClave said he replied that he stood for protection and fair dealing to labor and that Mulhall responded, "our organization stands for the same thing and wants to help you."

He added that Mulhall insisted upon two rooms in Mulhall's headquarters, but that he visited there only a few times, and then saw a few newspaper men.

Was Well Recommended. The witness said Mulhall had letters from Vice President Sherman, Congressman Gardner and others. "It was my first experience," he added, "and I supposed that a man endorsed by such men must be all right."

McClave had been held up to the committee by Mulhall yesterday as one who had been continually paid and for whom Mulhall had raised and spent more than $5,000. This McClave vigorously denied. McClave said he could obtain no aid from the Republican national committee and that as Mulhall came as a representative of the National Association of Manufacturers, he said he was willing to accept his assistance.

"What was the National Association of Manufacturers to get in return for the money it spent?" asked Senator Walsh.

"It was going to get a representative in the American congress who was in favor of protecting the American industries," replied McClave.

He added that it had been said that William Hughes, his opponent, now senator, had received a $5,000 campaign fund from the American Federation of Labor and he felt that it was entirely proper for him to accept aid from the manufacturers' association.

Attempt to Bribe Gompers. Martin M. Mulhall today gave the senate lobby investigating committee his story of the alleged effort in 1907 and 1908 to bribe Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to desert the cause of labor and support the policies advocated by the National Association of Manufacturers. He admitted he had no positive information that an attempt to bribe Gompers had actually been made, but he said Atherton Brownell of New York had outlined the plans to him and had told him of what was to be done.

Mulhall was excused late this afternoon until Monday morning on the ground that he was tired after a week of continuous testimony.

The committee opened the Gompers incident today by newspaper clippings appeared, showing that Gompers had made the bribery charges before a court in 1910 and that President Van Cleve of the manufacturers' association had denied all connection with them. Mulhall said he had been referred to by Van Cleve and Secretary Schwedtmann, also of the manufacturers' association, as the man who had been conducting a publicity bureau of the association.

Plan to "Get" Gompers. Brownell told him, he said, that a man named Brandenberg was following Gompers, but he had a plan by which they expected to "get" the labor leader. Mulhall said he warned them they would not succeed and later advised Van Cleve to the same effect.

Van Cleve left New York suddenly, the witness said, after telling him that he had nearly "fallen into a trap."

"He said they wanted him to go down town to meet those people, but he got a tip not to go," added Mulhall. "He told me he thought Brownell had more sense than to go into a trap of that kind."

This was the extent of Mulhall's knowledge of the first part of the Gompers story and an unexpected outburst from Mulhall, who complained that officers of the National Association of Manufacturers were trying to "stare him out of countenance," were the enlivening features of the day.

CHARLES RENEWS DEMANDS

Replies to Bulgarian Note by Repeating the Former Peace Proposal.

London, July 19.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Bucharest says that King Charles of Roumania replied Friday to the appeal of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria for peace terms by referring him to Roumania's last note demanding the secession to Roumania of the Bulgarian territory situated between Turtukal in North Bulgaria and Balchik, on the Black Sea, and participation in a general Balkan settlement.

According to a dispatch from Athens to the Daily Telegraph King Ferdinand has addressed a note to the French president, M. Poincare, soliciting France's intervention and intruding Bulgaria's interest to the powers. Rumors have been circulated in some of the European capitals that King Ferdinand is in flight, and that his queen has arrived at Ernest Braun, in Lower Austria, where her nephew, the Prince of Reuss, resides. Both these rumors are denied in responsible Bulgarian quarters.

The Daily Mail's Bucharest correspondent says the Roumanian government has not actually decided to accept Sofia, but will take all the passes stretching across Bulgaria. Queen Elena of Bulgaria has telegraphed an appeal to Queen Carmen Sylva of Roumania to stop the advance of the Roumanian army. The Roumanian queen replied that the troops would continue to advance, "but with the greatest consideration."

Pays Interest on Bonds. AGGREGATING $10,000, interest payable semi-annually, was paid yesterday by check by the city waterworks department to holders of department bonds. In bonds on which interest is payable quarterly the department paid out $8,493.16.

Highest Ever in Georgia. Atlanta, Ga., July 18.—The heat wave under which the South Atlantic states from Virginia to Florida have sweated the last few days, pushed the mercury to 97 degrees in Atlanta today, making a record for the year. The minimum through the day was 75 degrees.

At Macon, Ga., the mercury topped 104, the highest ever recorded there. In Augusta there was one death and seven prostrations. The mercury reached 99 at midnight.

Charlotte, N. C., reported 101 degrees, the hottest day in twenty-five years. The maximum at Jacksonville was 95.

St. Louis Editor Prostrated. St. Louis, July 18.—Three deaths and as many prostrations were caused by the heat here today. The government thermometer registered 102 degrees at 3:30 p. m., one degree above the previous record of yesterday.

Referred to by the Globe Democrat. Henry King, editor of the Globe Democrat, fell while walking in the street. He was revived at home. Clouds in the afternoon sent the mercury racing downward and at 9 o'clock it registered 85 degrees.

Six Deaths in Indiana. Indianapolis, July 18.—Six deaths and numerous prostrations in Indiana today were the results of the heat wave in which this state has sweated for three days. Princeton was officially the hottest spot in the state with 105 degrees.

In Indianapolis the maximum was 90 while tonight the mercury had receded to 76 degrees.

Twelve Deaths in Louisville. Louisville, July 18.—Twelve deaths and three prostrations, attributed to heat, were recorded in Louisville today. According to the thermometer at the local weather bureau, the maximum temperature was 104 at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the highest temperature in Louisville this year.

St. Louis for Opticians. Rochester, July 18.—St. Louis was chosen tonight as the 1914 convention city of the American Optical association. Money was appropriated to enable the president and secretary to visit state societies in the interest of the national association.

Proceedings were running smoothly when Robert McCarter, attorney for the manufacturers' association, tried to ask Mulhall a question.

"I refuse to answer any questions," he said.

TO START TODAY ON MEDIATION

FEDERAL BOARD WILL MAKE READY TO CONSIDER LABOR DISPUTE.

RAILROADS ARE ALL WILLING TO SUBMIT THE MATTER—RAIL CHIEFS ADVISED NOT TO MAKE COUNTER DEMANDS.

Washington, July 18.—The new federal board of mediation and conciliation will hold its first meeting here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to organize and prepare for immediate consideration of the controversy between the eastern railroads and their 30,000 trainmen and conductors. The call was issued today by Judge William Lea Chambers, whose appointment as commissioner with the board, the other members of the board were sent to the senate by President Wilson, earlier in the day.

According to the custom, the nomination will be referred to committee and will be presented tomorrow, but their immediate confirmation is considered certain and Judge Chambers is going ahead with plans for the board work. The judge will leave Sunday night for New York to confer with representatives of the railroads and the employees.

The first meeting of the board would have been held this afternoon, but owing to the absence in Boston of one of the members, Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of the labor department, it was decided to wait until tomorrow.

Judge Chambers said tonight that the board would sit permanently in Washington.

Speaking of his call at the white house today to thank President Wilson for his appointment, he said that he had never met the president before. The president told him he had appointed the man who was almost universally favored for the position.

Railroads Are Willing. New York, July 18.—The eastern railroads, engaged in a wage controversy with their 30,000 trainmen and conductors, indicated tonight their willingness to leave with the board of mediation and conciliation appointed by President Wilson, though the questions which are to be submitted for arbitration under the Newlands act.

In a letter to the leaders of the trainmen, the committee of managers said it seemed to them "that the immediate difference of opinion relating to the points to be submitted for arbitration is a matter to be considered by the board of mediation and conciliation."

The managers had reference to their demands that "all questions of pay and working conditions" be settled along with the men's demand for better wages.

President Lee of the Brotherhood of Trainmen commented upon the change in wording. He expressed the belief that a comparison of the phraseology of the two letters indicated that a modification of the roads position has taken place within the last forty-eight hours.

In their letter the managers quoted from the record of the meeting between the conference committee and the trainmen's officials on July 16, when A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, had asked about the men's attitude.

"We ourselves," the record quoted Mr. Garretson as saying, "have not discussed the question of bringing mediation."

Change in Letters. President Lee of the Brotherhood of Trainmen commented upon the change in wording. He expressed the belief that a comparison of the phraseology of the two letters indicated that a modification of the roads position has taken place within the last forty-eight hours.

LADY FALLS OFF PORCH

Partial Paralytic Condition Ensues and New Earth Fluid Employed.

Mrs. D. A. Latimer, an aged and well known lady of Palestine, who has a daughter, Mrs. Walter Nail, residing in Houston, with whom she spends much of her time, sustained a severe nervous shock and bodily injuries in a fall from her home gallery. A partial paralytic condition ensued.

Mrs. Latimer says: "I could not stand on my feet at all when I began taking Vitalitas. It helped me wonderfully from the start. I have taken two bottles of it and my strength and nerve force has returned. I am able to walk again, better than I expected I would ever be able to. If you desire to, you may refer to my case in any way that will advise the public of the splendid merits of Vitalitas."

Vitalitas is taken out of the earth. It comes from an energized strata that is rich in natural medicinal properties. Its system cleansing and invigorating effects are marvelous. It puts into the body the natural forces upon which life depends. It overcomes and forces out disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. Such ailments as indigestion, biliousness, rheumatism, bowel troubles, nervous debility, eczema and skin disorders are relieved by the use of Vitalitas. It will be found effective even where all man-made medicines have failed. Try it today. See the unique demonstration at Powers-Kelly drug company and talk with the Vitalitas man. (Advertisement.)

from that man," shouted Mulhall. "Further, I want to tell the committee that the men at that table have kept some one there continually to stare steadily at me while I have been on the stand. I think it is a contemptible and cowardly thing that will advise the public of the splendid merits of Vitalitas."

Acting Chairman Bankhead mildly suggested that Mulhall look at him instead at his antagonists. Mulhall admitted he was somewhat nervous, but insisted that witnesses have been intimidated since they were brought to Washington, "outside as well as inside this committee room."

Raised $5,500 in Indiana.

Letters identified today centered chiefly about the campaign in Indiana in 1908 when Mulhall, according to the documents, was working in close co-operation with Congressman James E. Watson and with national and state republican leaders. Mulhall told the committee he raised $5,500 for that campaign.

One of the letters referred to this amount and another mentioned a list of manufacturing concerns in South Bend, the proprietors of which had been visited by Mulhall in company with Peter Kline, deputy factory inspector for that district.

Corporations Evade Laws.

"In an interview I had with Mr. Parry and other large business men of this section they clearly stated they were jumping the law as far as corporations are concerned, subscribing to our campaign funds," said Mulhall, in a letter to Schwedman at Indianapolis, September 26, 1908. "There are a hundred and one ways to get around that and we all know that and I cannot see why Mr. Van Cleave cannot go around it just as well as the large manufacturers here."

Correspondence read late in the day showed that the Indianapolis News had identified Mulhall as connected with the Manufacturers' association in September. Mulhall laughingly told the committee that the local, state and national campaign managers had consistently denied that they knew anything about any work by the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Gill a Fair Man."

Several letters again referred to Maryland. Two of them showed that Mulhall, in behalf of his employers, was trying to work both with Collector Wm. F. Stone, one of the republican leaders, and Congressman John Gill of the Fourth district, a democrat, who were bitterly opposing each other. To the committee Mulhall explained that Gill had not sought aid, but that he considered him a "fair man" and wanted to help him.

In a letter to John Kirby Jr. from Indianapolis just after some of the so-called Archbold letters had been made public, referring to Senator F. A. Mulhall said he "did not have faith in Ohio's great senator" and he thought he would win. He expressed surprise that Roosevelt was stirring up the Standard Oil matter and said:

"The president is playing very poor politics. Instead of gaining votes he will find on the 3rd of November that it will be a losing game. Even the Standard Oil company has its friends, and I cannot understand why a man of his stripe will think it a crime for a man to honestly work for a corporation of that kind."

Several Letters Introduced.

The Citizens Industrial Association of America, with C. W. Post as its president, and many officers of the National Association of Manufacturers, on its list figured prominently in today's proceedings. Several letters on the stationery of this association, and signed, "James A. Emery, secretary," were read and Senator Reed suggested it was a "half brother" to the Manufacturers' Association. One of these letters said "Watson was not only the greatest help to me personally, but he represented all the forces that did help me, and I personally believe that we need friends in congress far more than anywhere else. Mr. Taft's labor statements are not at all encouraging."

How the National Association of Manufacturers proposed to concentrate its efforts in the campaign for the reelection of former Speaker Cannon in the 1906 campaign was described in one of the first Mulhall letters brought before the senate lobby committee today.

The letter bearing on Cannon was written to Mulhall by Secretary Sawdman of the Manufacturers on August 17, 1908, and declared all energies should be concentrated in Cannon's district, "if there is the slightest occasion for it."

Reed Questions Mulhall.

Senator Reed questioned Mulhall about Congressman Bartholdt. "I always understood," Schwedman and Van Cleave looked after Bartholdt and that the brewery interests helped," replied Mulhall.

The committee decided immediately to hear S. W. McClave, republican candidate for congress in the sixth Indiana district, where a special election is to be held Tuesday.

Mulhall testified yesterday that he had run McClave's campaign against William Hughes in 1910.

Republican Members Get Angry.

The cross-examination of Mulhall on McClave aroused the ire of the two republican members of the committee, who declared it was an attempt to play politics.

Schwedman wrote Mulhall on August 22 about the situation in Indiana, where he said "very much" and added, "If we win, most of the credit will be due to your good work. If some of our good political friends should forget it later on, I want to take a trip with you into Indiana for the specific purpose of laying three good people over the fence and give them the kind of spanking they ought to have."

In August a fight in the Eleventh Wisconsin district, where John J. Jenkins was up for reelection, apparently was won by the manufacturers, although the National Brewers' association, through its national chairman, wrote Mulhall it was "their fight."

Hines Again Mentioned.

Edward Hines, Chicago lumber man, who figured in the Lorimer case, came into the hearing again today. Mulhall swore that in a letter to the manufacturers, August 27, Hines spoke of a promise to send $1000 "to go into the right channel to be used for legitimate purposes" in the Jenkins districts. Schwedman wrote Mulhall on August 23:

"I do not consider Teddy nor Taft nor Sherman nor Foraker nor any of these great men equal to Van Cleave. Parry, Kirby and others who have given freely of their energy and their money to the great cause which is expressed in the principles of the National Association of Manufacturers."

Aid Wanted for Denby.

A letter of September, 1908, from C. B. Anthony, vice president of the manufacturers, to Van Cleave, asked if there was any way for the association to aid our good friend Honorable Edwin Denby of the First Michigan district. It added the suggestion was made without Denby's knowledge. An unsigned letter to Anthony September 2, which Mulhall said was from Van Cleave, said:

"We must of course do all that is in our power for Mr. Denby."

September 11, 1908, Mulhall wrote Schwedman about a visit to Cincinnati and breakfast with A. I. Vorys, "Mr. Taft's chief of staff."

Taft's Aid Desired.

"Vorys was an entirely different man to what he was in Chicago," the letter said. "He is more than anxious to have some of our people see Judge Taft and get our people actively to work. I convinced Vorys that if he wished to get a large percentage of our organization he had better get Judge Taft to get in communication with Mr. Van Cleave, Mr. Parry, Mr. Kirby, Mr. Schwedman and other leaders. This he claimed he would bring about in the very near future and wanted me to aid him."

September 14, 1908, Mulhall wrote Congressman J. Sloan Fassett of New York that the manufacturers would be glad to aid him if he wanted it.

Help Declined.

"Fassett declined that aid," said Mulhall. "He helped us on some bills, but only because he was a good party man."

"I want to say something also about Swaggar Sherley, who was mentioned here the other day. All I know about Mr. Sherley is the letter Emery wrote. I never approached Sherley; I always thought he was above reproach and I never spoke to the gentleman in my life."

Mulhall wrote to Schwedman September 15, complaining of a lack of funds and saying he saw nothing but "defeat in all the districts we are planning in" unless more money was forthcoming. He added, "Leaders of the republican party thought the association was playing bad politics and doing more harm than good with our tariff issue."

"Big Stick" Favored Hughes.

Mulhall swore he received a letter from T. V. Farrell, written September 17, referring to the New York republican committee and picturing Roosevelt as winning the "big stick" in support of Hughes for governor.

"Woodruff, Parsons and O'Dell and Barnes had a long conference Sunday afternoon and as the result Sunday evening 520 votes were secured to defeat Hughes, fifteen more than were needed, and up to Monday noon it was only a question of who they would agree upon," said the letter. "The president, seeing his advice ignored and his candidates defeated, pulled every wire within his power; Root and every office holder received their instructions. As a result, when the nomination was offered to a good man he refused rather than offend the president or administration."

The leaders, seeing the folly of going further, threw up their hands and accepted Hughes."

Six big packing cases full of letters from the files of the National Association of Manufacturers today were turned over to the house lobby investigating committee under a subpoena served on J. S. Emery, chief counsel for the association. These letters will form the basis of the house lobby probe.

Chairman Garrett said that at an executive meeting today the committee decided not to call the witnesses until they could secure the full list of letters to the conclusion of his examination by the senate. The committee today sent a circular letter to members of the house asking for suggestions as to matters to be inquired into under the blanket clause of the resolution authorizing the investigation.

Former Representative Ralph Cole of Ohio forwarded a request asking that he be allowed to answer charges made against him by Mulhall before the senate committee.

census of opinion that about 10 per cent of the contracts of sale and purchase of cotton for future delivery is embraced in that branch of the business known as hedging and that the other 90 per cent thereof is of a speculative or gambling character where no delivery of the product is ever really intended to be made.

"If the effect of the proposed tax is to eliminate all of the latter class of business and to leave intact that part of the dealings resorted to for hedging purposes the revenue derived from this tax should amount to about $1,000,000 a year and if its imposition does not have the effect of eliminating the gambling or speculative end of the business, the revenue derived therefrom will be enormously in excess of this amount."

Reduce Exemption Tax.

Reduction of the basic exemption of the income tax from $4,000 as in the house bill to $3,000 for unmarried persons, the report comments upon in part as follows:

"By the amendment the lowest possible exemption to any one person would be $3,000 and the highest possible exemption to any one person $5,000. While the amendment may make no difference in the volume of revenue derivable from the tax, it is deemed equitable as recognizing the added obligations on account of marriage and children and salutary as emphasizing the family as the unit in our social structure."

The changes in all the schedules are dealt at length in the report. On agricultural products, many of which will be transferred to the free list, the committee has this to say:

"The house bill and amendments made by the committee on finance fully recognized the paramount interest of our agricultural population in placing implements of every kind and description, baling wire, cotton bagging and ties, low priced blankets, boots and shoes, cement, nails, lumber, coal, harness, saddles, cotton gins, wagons, carts, bagging for grain, wool and other bays, sewing machines and many other products of daily utility, on the free list. Our agricultural population will share in the benefits brought about by the reduction in duties on sugar and its eventual elimination. The substantial reductions made all along the line in cotton and woolen goods, wearing apparel of every description, on household furnishings and utensils, hardware and similar products of our factories, will remove a considerable part of the burden of tariff taxation now borne by the farmer as well as the dweller in the city and the laborer in the factory, fields and mines."

Sugar and Wool.

The sugar and wool schedules are left unchanged as to free sugar and free raw wool. Sweater reductions in the tariff schedule are treated in the report with considerable comment. Pig iron, ferro manganese and other products were placed on the free list by the committee and the report says:

"The house bill places iron ore on the free list mainly because it was found that the domestic supply of iron ore was largely controlled by the United States Steel corporation, and for the purpose of aiding the independent steel manufacturers in competition with this monopoly. For similar reasons the committee on finance brought the ferro manganese schedule also be placed upon the free list."

Concerning the general revision the senate committee says: "It has sought in the amendments it proposes to the house bill to further carry out and perfect the theory of establishing a revenue producing tariff upon the basis of competitive rates, as a just and fair interpretation in the light of existing conditions of the latest authoritative utterances of the party in power upon that subject and now submits the results of its labors with the confident belief that the enactment into law of the house bill as amended will result in a more equitable distribution of the burdens and the incidental benefits of our system of customs taxation; that it will tend to disintegrate the monopolies built up under the present system; that it will enlarge opportunity through individual effort, reduce the cost of living and release the people from the burdens of the protective system strikingly exemplified by the so-called Payne-Aldrich bill, which this measure is intended to supersede."

has sent at the public expense telegrams pertaining to private business."

Letter That Caused Debate.

The row was one Bristow had written to Senator Chester I. Long, May 27, 1906.

"I think I would like to have one of those advisory places on the 'sneak commission' it said. They pay $2,500 and require a visit to the isthmus once in three months. I could hold it and live in Kansas, being there at least half my time, and when the fight got hot I could resign."

Washington, July 15.—Secretary Bryan talked freely with the newspaper men today about his much discussed and criticized plan to spend his vacation on the lecture platform. He said the trip would make a little over $250 on each lecture and added: "When I return I'll tell you just how much I have made."

Mr. Bryan will leave tomorrow night and will deliver his first lecture before the Winona (Minnesota) chautauqua assembly Sunday afternoon. He will make as many additional lectures as time will permit before his return for the conference with Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson. The ambassador is now en route to Washington from Mexico City to make the report to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan which probably will determine the future attitude of the United States toward the revolutionary republic to the south.

The secretary indicated that he was making the trip under his own auspices and said he would not become president of the Winona chautauqua until its reorganization after its indebtedness has been liquidated.

TO SUCCEED ATWELL

JAMES C. WILSON OF FORT WORTH GETS THE APPOINTMENT.

Young Man Who Has Made a Good Record Gets Federal Position.

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson today sent to the senate the nomination of James C. Wilson as United States attorney for the Northern district of Texas.

Atwell Goes Out September 1.

Dallas, July 18.—W. H. Atwell, present United States district attorney for the Northern district of Texas, was asked as to whether formal announcement of the appointment of a successor to him would have any effect in changing his plans as to when he would retire from office. He replied that it would not, and said that he would tender his resignation effective September 1.

The fact that Senator Culberson was endorsing J. J. Collins for the appointment came to light in dispatches from Washington, while Mr. Wilson was given the backing of Senator Sheppard.

New District Attorney.

James C. Wilson, who has been appointed United States attorney for the Northern district of Texas to succeed William H. Atwell, is not yet 40 years of age, although he has gained an enviable reputation as a lawyer and an orator. He was born in Palo Pinto county and was a son of one of the pioneer sheriffs of that county. He was educated in the schools of Mineral Wells, and later graduated from the Weatherford college. Afterward he attended the state university and took the degree of bachelor of laws. Among his classmates were Fred Lowrance, Rhodes S. Baker and R. E. L. Sauer of Dallas. He began his career practicing law at Weatherford. When A. B. Flannery, now of Dallas, was elected county attorney of Parker county he searched around for a bright young assistant. He chose Mr. Wilson. When Mr. Flannery retired from the office in 1902 Mr. Wilson succeeded him as county attorney, holding the position until 1908. Then Mr. Wilson took up the practice of law with Judge R. L. Stearns. Beginning January 1 Mr. Wilson has made Fort Worth his home.

with the intention of showing that the trainmen themselves had suggested differences in framing the arbitration stipulations and had regarded the body as the proper one to which such difficulty should be submitted.

No Counter Differences.

The managers and trainmen's committees will hold conferences tomorrow morning, the men to discuss the letter received tonight from the roads. Both sides are marking time pending the calling of a meeting where the mediation board after its members have been confirmed by the senate. The men reiterated their purpose to demand that this meeting be held at once and indicated that a strike would be called within twenty-four hours after if the roads refused to sign a stipulation that only those men's demands were to be submitted for arbitration. The men hope the meeting with the board can be held Monday.

Seth Low, head of the National Civic Federation, addressed the railroad managers in conference today. He urged them to abandon any thought of submitting their grievances to arbitration at this time.

Very unexpectedly to the friends here, Mrs. Constance Walker Haymore became a bride on Wednesday. Further details were not given, but it is the interest here to await the first letter from Mrs. Johnson telling of her future home and plans.

FRIDAY HALF HOLIDAY COMES TO WACO STORES

From time to time the women of the city have endeavored to obtain a weekly half holiday for the women in the shops. This has been mentioned more than once. This half holiday here is coming gradually to be general. And the women are thankful. That it has not come before is not because our merchants are inhumane, but because it is a business principle to satisfy customers. So, after all, the responsibility comes back to the women shoppers. This much by way of saying there is yet something for the humane women to do. They have stood for the half holiday, now they must go further.

BRIDGE WITH MISS EVANS WHILE MORNING HOUR

A beautiful little bridge party was planned by Miss Ruth Evans for her guests, the Mesdames J. W. Bonheur, of Tyler and Ernest Cortines of Dallas. And an exceedingly enjoyable game of bridge was the result. Open to the breeze as the Evans home is, and with its old southern garden always abloom, the summer heat was set in abeyance under the enjoyment of the congenial company and the always merry hostess. The luncheon feature was noted as coming in two attractive served courses. The prizes, too, were especially to be coveted. There were for the leading score a deposit silver powder box; for the consolation, a set of crystal and silver tea coasters, and for the two honor guests each a short hat pin. The two first were won by the Mesdames Clabbe and J. W. Whitworth. The other players were Miss Jane Moore with the Mesdames Harl Moore, Irvine Ceigin, Sidney Burrows, M. C. H. Park, W. P. Beaumont, Charles Ivy, Ralph Turner, Forest Goodman, Shel Sparks, W. D. Scruggs of Hillsboro and John Dockey.

MR. AND MRS. W. B. HAYS ENTERTAIN AT THE HUACO

In courtesy to their younger daughter, Miss Frances Hays, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hays entertained a large number from the college set at the Huaco club. This was not only a dancing compliment to the daughter who is enjoying her vacation from a New York school, but to her household guests and schoolmate, Miss Grace Herndon of Tyler, also to Miss Eva Austin of Laredo. Scidmore does Waco society congratulate so many and such pleasing vacation visitors, both young men and women, as are now in our homes. These all received the hospitality of this gathering, and were freely sought. The provision for the evening dance had been anticipated. The neat folders bearing the souvenir feature in the names of the Misses Austin and Herndon were handed by Mrs. T. A. Austin of Laredo in the reception hall. Here greetings were given and management made. Mr. and Mrs. Hays had requested some from among their married friends to be present through the evening. The Dixie band was engaged for the ball room and order given the club for a bowl of punch to refresh the dancers throughout the evening. Miss Hays was quite gracious in her duty of introducing her honor guests and of bestowing those attentions which gave accent to her social grace. The evening was one of summer informality, and yet quite the largest dance party of the present vacation season.

AUDITORIUM CONDUCT WHAT SHOULD THIS BE?

In a very few weeks we will be watching for the list of attractions to the Auditorium this winter. We will be reading soon about the new plays on Broadway, and which are to have the greatest "runs." We will be telling our friends of what we have seen on the stage in our summer travel. In other words, the theatrical season will be the theatre of the winter enjoyment. It is, therefore, not out of place for us to give a thought to theatre etiquette. And when we say theatre, this includes the concert and all other amusement halls. Waco is reprehensible in many respects. Perhaps she is no worse than other cities, but we have that pride in Waco which ought to make her in advance of other places.

First of all, we are a supremely selfish lot. We saunter to our seats any time, it matters not. It is never a care for the other patrons. Had you ever thought, Madame Selfish, that the seat next you might have been bought at a sacrifice. Many a woman attends the theatre as her only recreation. Perhaps she goes only once or twice a year. She selects something really worth while and starts out with anticipation of pleasure. You saunter in with your Ego quite in the lead, and destroy that pleasure. The key to every play and opera is stated clearly in the very first scene. This is the dramatist's art in having his listeners follow intelligently. If that is lost, perhaps the entire play is a mystery. Have you any right to destroy the privilege of the other woman.

It is told of a prominent theatre person here that a party came up from Martin for an special music. That was the time involved, the expense of railroad fare, and the admission. This woman undertook to explain everything about everything, in order to impress her own erudition. This was so exasperating to the Martin party that they left the auditorium, and she walked the streets until their train left. The pleasure of many was thus marred because of the supreme selfishness of one, to say nothing of her bad breeding. Here the thought is, no matter what the incentive, there should be no loud conversation in an amusement hall.

A third serious menace to theatre etiquette prevails here by restlessness in fear of not catching a street car. For a half hour before a concert program is finished those indifferent to the art of the program are rustling program folders, putting on hats, turning seats for wraps, and generally making miserable those around who are really attending for the art involved. Is this right? Is it not in a way stealing; at least, trespassing? It is the duty of every one to remain quiet, and retain until the last word is spoken or the last note given. Then it is the time for the conversation and confusion. Let us remember this. Many visitors are now coming to us from other places. What must they think of the tone of social life in Waco?

Really, the well bred woman is she who takes heed of the comfort and the rights of those whom she does not know. Many of us are too prone to apply the golden rule of thinking of others right in our own little circle. The ill bred and the boor does this. The truly refined woman is a lady in public as well as in private. Let us remember this. Suppose we elevate the tone of our public assemblies with the next season.

How about the woman who went to the band concert and sat for two solid hours with her horse writhing under the discipline of the check rein? She was too selfish to take notice of the animal's discomfort, but those who sat around her were not.

Into her new home which is now ready, Mrs. Bessie Miles Quintus takes the chain of event between her announcement and welcome from her bridal tour. Among her wedding gifts was a bride's book, and it has since been the labor of love for one of her attendants to arrange these chronologically according to the frequent present mention.

Some one with a predilection for tongue-twisting words refers to the present as "the season of midsummer tranquility." Now that we have thrown aside our affection for French terms, perhaps this is not so bad. But really, even now, say, it is hot and dull and be done with it?

The signs are all so encouraging. At the band concert on Thursday evening the entire mass of the men and women, even in the automobiles, rose at the first note of the "Star Spangled Banner." Only the very few kept seats. These few must be reminded the next time.

SPECIAL HEARING IS HELD

Oral Testimony for Criminal Case in North Carolina Is Taken.

A proceeding that is unusual in Texas because it is not provided for by Texas statutes and Texas practice has just been concluded before Special Judge Jake Tiley, who has been conducting the hearing for a week in the office of Witt & Saunders in the Amicable.

Lee Ford, formerly a resident of Waco and at one time foreman for the Waco Sash and Door company, is charged with the killing of I. W. Garland, a policeman, in Davidson county, North Carolina. In the North Carolina case a plea of insanity was set up, and it became necessary to have evidence from Waco. Under the practice of the courts of North Carolina, Jake Tiley was commissioned by that state to take oral testimony. Ford was represented by Witt & Saunders and the state of North Carolina was represented by George Garland, a brother of the man for whose killing Ford is being held.

BOAT FLIES 900 MILES. Said to Be Longest Trip Ever Undertaken by Flying Boat.

Detroit, July 18.—Beckwith Havens completed a flying boat trip from Chicago to Detroit this afternoon. He covered 900 miles. It was said to have been the most remarkable trip ever undertaken by a flying boat.

Although it was announced a few days ago that the cruise, which started from Chicago July 8, had been called off because the private committee that raised the bonus money was reported to have withdrawn the prize, E. F. Noel, steward of the Aero Club of America, said here this afternoon that the cruise itself would stand and that Havens would be the winner of it.

Havens reached Detroit shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon with J. R. Verplank, owner of the flying boat, who accompanied Havens as a passenger throughout the trip. They left Chicago on the eighth.

Headquarters at Fort Worth. Fort Worth, July 18.—James C. Wilson, President Wilson's appointee as United States district attorney in the North Texas district, is now assistant county attorney of Tarrant. He came here a few months ago from Weatherford, where he served several years as county attorney. He said today he would establish his headquarters here.

Several Are Injured In Bad Auto Smash

San Antonio, July 18.—Two badly injured, one probably fatally, eight others slightly hurt and two automobiles demolished is the result of a head-on collision between the two cars at 10 o'clock last night on the south loop, two miles out of San Antonio.

W. E. Fore, who owns an automobile repair shop, driver of one of the cars, is in the hospital with his head crushed and is expected to die.

Miss Gertrude Campbell, stenographer in the Bexar county clerk's office, thrown from the other automobile, sustained a dislocated shoulder and other injuries.

Miss Campbell was returning to the city with a party of picnicers, when the car in which she was riding was crashed into by the other, which was running at a high rate of speed.

H. Achterberg and H. L. Thorp, two young men, and two negro musicians who occupied the outgoing car with Fore, also were bruised.

Cotton Bagging Price Is Advanced By Trust

Washington, July 18.—The senate by a unanimous consent today passed the resolution introduced by Senator Smith of South Carolina, directing the department of commerce to investigate the rise in price of cotton bagging.

Senator Smith charged that the manufacture of cotton bagging had gotten into the hands of a trust, which recently had advanced the price two cents a yard. This would not be manufacturers $16,000,000, he said.

Senator Smoot insists that it must be a foreign trust and not an American one.

BOILER EXPLOSION KILLS. Two Are Dead, One Dying and Two Seriously Injured.

Decatur, Ala., July 18.—Two are dead, one is dying and two others are seriously injured as a result of a boiler explosion near Trinity, this county, today. The dead are:

H. Gay Thrasher, a Miss Dyer Bourghina, a Richard Thrasher, 13 years old, will die.

Percy Thrasher, 10 years old, may not survive.

Wood McDonald, probably will recover.

The explosion demolished a grist and sawmill run by Thrasher.

WHOLESALE GROCERS PROTEST

They Object to the Sale of Proprietary Medicines by Grocers.

Charlotte, N. C., July 15.—The Southern Wholesale Grocers' association at its closing session today adopted resolutions indorsing the Newlands bill in congress aimed at flood prevention in the Mississippi valley.

Efforts of the National Credit Men's association to obtain reformation of the national bankruptcy laws and the exaction of demurrage charges from consignees were other subjects which the association favored.

J. H. McLaurin of Jacksonville, Fla., was unanimously re-elected president; J. B. Fawcett of Bristol, Tenn., was elected first vice president; W. T. Reeve of Tupelo, Miss., second vice president, and C. J. Hartleson of Jacksonville, Fla., treasurer.

The Isle of Palms, Charleston, S. C., was selected as next year's meeting place. Resolutions were adopted to petition the Interstate Commerce commission to exempt from transportation companies demurrage, as in the manner not applied to consignees; against the sale of household articles and proprietary medicines by grocers; for desirable reform in the national bankruptcy laws and indorsing the fight on national letter postage.

INSPECTS ARMY POST. Senator Garrison and Party Spend Day at Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 18.—Secretary of War Garrison and his party left here late tonight for Little Rock, Ark., after a day devoted to an inspection of the army post at Fort Ogilthorpe. Secretary Garrison expressed himself as favorably impressed with conditions at Fort Ogilthorpe and Major General Leonard Wood gave it as his opinion that the post would be enlarged.

After visiting Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge the party was tendered a dinner at Signal Mountain tonight.

En route to Little Rock, a stop of several hours will be made at Memphis tomorrow morning.

Dies of Injuries. Houston, July 18.—Gus Juenger, an attaché of the Houston Post business department, died today from injuries received on July 4, when it is alleged he was struck over the head with a bottle, after a day out, but no arrest has been made.

IN TODAY'S ELECTION.

Texas citizens today should go to the polls. The State never has had an election on proposed constitutional amendments of more general importance to its welfare. Each of the three propositions to be voted on—rather, each of the three resolutions, for Number 18 contains several propositions—has been studied, discussed in public meeting, dissected in the press for nearly three months without letup. To be sure, Number 18 is not as clear as it should be, in meaning; indeed, many have written that they found it obscure if not opaque. And most of the attempted explanations by some of its leading advocates, seeking to "read in" this vexed resolution matter supportive of their contentions that its adoption means great good for the State, have tended only to increase the confusion. Let no good citizen of Texas today lose sight of the significance of the costly campaign that has been conducted in behalf of Number 18.

Resolution No. 18 authorizes the legislature to vote bonds, to be issued with the governor's approval, for the purchase of ground, erection of buildings, for the State university, "including a medical department, an agricultural and mechanical college, and all departments and activities of a complete university of the first class." Interest on these bonds, and sinking fund, are to be cared for out of the revenues of the university's permanent fund. The resolution also increases the limit to which bonds may be issued for "casual deficiencies" in the general revenue from $200,000 to $500,000. The legislature would also have power to issue bonds for buildings at all State institutions. There would also be altered by this amendment the requirements as to bond issues of political subdivisions, making only a majority vote, instead of a two-thirds vote, of taxpayers citizens necessary to carry an issue; permitting issuance of levee bonds to the amount of 50, instead of 25 per cent of the value of property; permitting bonds for bridges and sand clay roads; permitting issuance of bonds to construct and maintain public warehouses.

The Good Is Lost.

It is most unfortunate that the legislature, either through ignorance, misguidance by the design of a few, or in defiance of what it must have known to be the attitude and right of the people in the matter of voting on all bond issues, should have included these road, bridge, warehouse and general bond issues requirements provisions in Number 18 together with the thoroughly objectionable proposition of turning over the people's right to vote on each State bond issue, to the legislature. There is justice in the proposition to require only a majority vote of taxpayers for good roads bonds, for instance, and it is desirable that there should be authority to issue bonds for levees, sand clay roads and bridges. But the people's wool, in this regard, must wait another two years for attention; for the people are not willing to abdicate their right to control the State's bonded debt even for the right of bettering their communities and neighborhoods and farms by broad provision for local bond issues.

We must conclude that these several separate and distinct bonding propositions were included in the one resolution with the carefully designed purpose of either blinding the people to the detriment of the legislative bonding feature or palliating that feature by including the good with the harmful. But the people have not been hoodwinked. Let them be given the opportunity to vote, as a separate and individual proposition, that the university may finance its own improvement and extension out of its own funds, and the vote will be overwhelming. The same is true of a bonding proposition to improve any other State institution, as an individual matter for popular consideration on its merits; certainly the same is true of these local bonding proposals for public improvements. It was not out of the question, and cannot be out of the question, to give the people a square deal in the submission of bonding matters—and the purpose, effect and method of Number 18 is not a square deal. Under no circumstances should the people abandon their control of bond issues. This is done nowhere. The several propositions embraced by Number 18 may be submitted two years hence, together with any bonding proposal for any State institution to a definite amount and for a definite purpose, to the people—each on its own footing, and each that is meritorious will be O. K'd by the voters.

Abdication of Popular Right.

Not a reasonable argument has been advanced why the people should vacate their right to vote on every State bond issue. To the objection that this would give the legislature unlimited power to plunge the State into bonded debt biennially, on deficiency bonds as well as on institutions bonds, by reason of the fact that the legislature would feel more secure in creating a debt that could be paid through a score of years instead of currently by the appropriation method, the only answer has been the weak repetition of the fact that the legislature has never approached anywhere near the maximum tax rate of 35 cents on the $100, and will be as chary of using its bond-issuing power as it has been of voting generous appropriations for the State's general maintenance, that might increase the tax rate appreciably. We claim it is dangerous to give the legislature the people's right; the other side merely points out, as we have shown, that it is useless to do this—the legislature would not use the right!

Resolution Number 18 cannot be justified; it involves the forfeiture of a sterling principle of popular right and it should be decisively defeated. But let the legion of opponents, people and press, of Number 18 make no mistake—the personnel of the organized advocacy of Number 18, including the university alumni, will attract a large vote in favor of this resolution; and this advocacy has sought to influence the people by harping on the inclusion of the roads, bridges, warehouses and levee bonding propositions in Number 18 whenever it appeared that public sentiment against the legislative bonding feature was spreading too rapidly. If every man who has already declared his objections to Number 18, will go to the polls today, this proposition will be defeated. If every man opposed to Number 18 does not go to the polls, the organization and its friends will carry the amendment.

For Better Court System.

Let the people vote strongly for the adoption of senate joint resolution No. 11, which provides that "one or more judges" shall be elected in each district, instead of "a judge," as at present; in amendment of article 5, section 7 of the constitution providing for district courts and district judges. This will give each district a "movable" bench, or permit the judges of a single district to sit in the trial of all cases filed in that district, doing away with the congestion of dockets, in large degree, by arranging that all cases filed in the district be tried by any judge as rapidly as the cases are disposed of in the order filed. By this amendment, also, a district judge must have served for six years next preceding his election as a practicing attorney in this State, instead of four years under the present section of the constitution. The advantages of this proposal to put more experienced lawyers on the district bench are obvious. The amendment also would provide for a system whereby judges of any district could sit throughout the State whenever the crowded condition of dockets in a district requires additional judicial service; in other words, there would be a "circuit" system that would give district judges power to serve in any district as occasion demanded. This is an undoubted reform and convenience in the State's judicial procedure, as is also the proposed change that court shall be held in each county at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed by law—doing away with the inconvenient restriction of the district judge holding regular term of court in each county of his district at least twice a year. The new system would permit district judges to be guided, as to terms of court, only by the needs of the docket in each county. On the whole, resolution No. 11 is a strong provision for reform in our court system.

Abolish the Fee System.

And let the State vote as a unit for the adoption of house joint resolution No. 41, which in effect abolishes the unjust and abused fee system and provides that State, district, county and precinct officials "shall be compensated by the payment of a salary to be fixed or provided for by the legislature." There is little need now to reiterate the many arguments against the fee system and there is not a reason that can be advanced for its retention or even for its origination. Our public officials, like all others paid for their services, should be worthy of their hire and no more; some of the abuses of the fee system are most vicious—especially those having to do with the treatment of persons in the restricted sections of our cities, by periodic arrests and fines for no other purpose than to fatten the purses of county officers—and the frequent unnecessary summoning of witnesses because there is an official fee for each witness summoned. Texas long has been trying to abolish the fee system—the opportunity is at hand. This drain on the people, litigants especially, is absolutely without warrant.

Let the voters of Texas in today's election, then, mark out the paragraph "FOR" the adoption of the bonding amendment, and mark out the paragraphs "AGAINST" the adoption of the district judges and salary amendments.

TWO SUNS' STROKES.

"If Mr. Bryan has packed his grip and gone off for a six-weeks Chautauqua lecture course, we really fail to see why any custodian of the public welfare should raise his hands in holy horror or even in pious reprobation," defends the Baltimore Sun. "No great international crisis is confronting this country just at present. Our relations with Mexico require delicate handling, and the California controversy with Japan is still to be adjusted. But even if there should be sudden and unexpected developments with regard to either of these countries, Mr. Bryan would not be off in the remotest part of this country, in these days of fast railroad specials and abundant telegraph facilities. And in the meantime President Wilson, with whom he has probably outlined the whole policy determined upon in both cases, will be in Washington to meet any emergency that may arise. He will be glad, as will most fair-minded people, to see the Secretary of State get a short vacation, especially as he is one of the men who sow the seed of great and life-giving ideas wherever they go." And the Baltimore writer considers, and adds:

It is hard even for the most liberal minded critics of Mr. Bryan to get over the old habit of cavilling at everything he does, or doesn't do. Things that would be considered too trivial for comment if done by anyone else, are made the subject of serious sermonizing when done by him. Which simply proves that, when one gets into a fixed "state of mind" with regard to a particular person, we are apt to judge him by our own "state of mind" rather than by the merits or demerits of his acts. How little there is to criticize in this administration, is shown by the little things that are criticized and by the desperate disposition to make mountains out of molehills.

The New York Sun gives the second stroke we refer to, of course; "of course," because the Sun, frequently near-hysterical concerning Mr. Bryan and all his works, has here an opportunity it would be of the height of folly (for the Sun) to overlook. Strong Wilsonite that it is, its wallowings of its pet aversion and longtime irritant, the gentleman from Lincoln, needs must be most skillfully confined to the gentleman himself and not reach into the conduct of the administration for very consistency's sake. But here is no opportunity to take the administration to task, and the New York editorial swordsmen's (or surgeon's; one has one's choice of characterizations in the following) thrust is altogether personal:

Mr. Bryan's excursions from Washington and his post of duty to gratify his incurable caecothecae loquendi or Yawp's disease have become more than a joke. They are a scandal. A Secretary of State whose department is crowded with grave and delicate international controversies neglects the country's business for his pleasure. Ambassadors of foreign nations must catch him, if at all, at banquets in other cities or between trips at Washington. Having had little but vacation since March 4, he now proposes to take a six weeks' vacation from July 13, a paid spouter on the Chautauqua circuit. He gaily deserts the work for which the United States pays him $12,000 a year to discharge his rhetoric and collect dollars on the road.

Since Mr. Bryan seems to have no sense of public obligation, of official responsibility or of loyalty to the administration upon which his evasion of his functions has already brought ridicule and is in more than a fair way to bring contempt; since the mighty mouthed Democratic protagonist of all the political and moral virtues is content to be a loafer and a shirk, what is Mr. Wilson going to do about it? Is Mr. Bryan to be treated contemptuously as the spoiled child of the cabinet? Does Mr. Wilson believe that the secretary's insolent uselessness is a defiance to him best answered by letting Mr. Bryan's admirers have time to let his official fainance soak into their minds? Or is Mr. Wilson to be Secretary of State or he is not. If he is, he should be made to do his work. If he is not, he should be thrown out. Meanwhile, he should be forced to choose between the Department of State and the tents of Chautauqua.

It is impossible, after a study of these two bits of antithetical comment to steer a course between them as to decision, but one need follow neither as to expression, extra-laudatory and extra-commendatory, remembering the "policy" of either Sun. We think Mr. Bryan belongs in Washington now if ever he did as Secretary of State, for we do not agree with the Baltimore writer that the Mexican and Japanese situations do not compel the presence of the head of this all-important department. We see no reason why Mr. Bryan should not earn this "extra" $20,000 when affairs are somewhat less clouded in his official line.

The governor's appeal to "all intelligent citizens who favor progress and development of the State to read the amendments and their explanation and vote intelligently upon them," will be answered today. The amendments have been read, explanations and alleged explanations and arguments p. and c. have been studied, and the vote will be "intelligent"—and adverse, as to S. J. R. number 18. "There is no politics in their adoption," continues the governor's statement. And there will be absolutely no politics in the rejection of No. 18. Rather will there be assurance that politics mixed in the submission of constitutional amendments will not be tolerated by the voters of Texas. When non-political amendments are submitted they will be adopted, if "for the progress and development of the State."

A soldier of the legion lay pierced by foeman's steel. As things befell the lad got well. It made a lovely reel. Maid Miller in the meadow lot was busy raking hay. Young people go to such a show. Such nearly always pay. The boy stood on the burning deck; defied a hostile realm. He knew his trade and really made a most exciting film. The village blacksmith plied his sledge; a scene of peaceful bliss. And now and then the worst of men like pictures such as this—Louisville Courier-Journal.

These poems really educate when flashed before the eye. One's mind must glean from title screen—it tells you whom they're by.

If summoning Ambassador Wilson to Washington proves to be merely a fine stroke of diplomacy and a finer stroke of policy—getting rid of him—we will remove our hat to any subordinate in the State department who may have suggested it.

Vote against S. J. R. No. 18—the bonds amendment. Vote for S. J. R. No. 11—the "district judges" amendment. Vote for H. J. R. 41—the "salary" amendment, to abolish the fee system. We think this will be "voting intelligently."

Mulhall said James Schoolcraft Sherman was "sincere." But nothing can harm our former vice president now.

Judging from the front page pictures lately, Evelyn Thaw is leading as merry a dance as ever.

Texas Viewpoints

It is Surprising, At That.

To announce that the Houston Press Club has a real chaplain is to stir up Texas Press within 24 hours after the announcement, and the stir has resulted in an humorous comment at rare intervals. We see nothing funny in it. Houston Press Club is one of our best little amateur needlers of a chaplain; therefore it should have a chaplain and most of its members would have been benefited long ago had there been a chaplain on the premises. Let it have even a constable, if it likes, for occasionally a constable's admonition would be fine to save the ballyhooists from future fines. But chaplain and constable must make no mistake—they must know their places and never attempt to encroach on the province and standing of the mixicologist, who is indispensable. "Whenever we love, we serve" and it is equally true that whenever a mixicologist serves he is loved, and when one is loved by others, Mr. Stevenson considered, we may say he is indispensable. Chaplain, constable and mixicologist—there's three-of-a—but this is a press club, not a poker club.

Laureled, But Not Laureates.

"Robert Bridges, the new laureate of England, is a minor poet, although an excellent one, and of far more merit than his predecessor," Houston Chronicle estimates. "Doubtless Rudyard Kipling was not chosen because of his imperialism being displeasing to the liberal ministry in power. Possibly Alfred Noyes was overlooked because busy by the suffragettes that he has not had time to read him." To suggest Arthur Brisbane or the overlord himself, Mr. Hearst, for the editorship of the Boston Transcript would create no greater stir than to propose Mr. Kipling to be poet laureate—and the stir would be similar and similarly caused. Kipling was not chosen not only because an heavy-minded British ministry and commons committee must consider him too unrestrained for this great dignity with small emolument, but for the same reason Austin was chosen over such splendid poets as, say, William Ernest Henley. Since Lord Tennyson died, England's poet laureates have been, it seems, somewhat short on poetry though long enough on laurels.

Conservative, Safe Conversation.

In hot weather, the silly season, the term of unbalance and disproportionate viewpoints, conversation is unrestrained as a rule and sober second thought (always a will-o'-the-wisp attribute, at best) is at a premium. Verbal excesses are more plentiful than any other sort—we have noticed that in the comment of our exchanges which, of course, must be considered no more than spoken opinion sadly reduced to print. Strangely enough, the weather, which itself provokes bad breaks and scorched speech, is the only safe topic for discussion no matter how vindictive may be the anathema and the abuse directed against it. ("Anathema against" is good, see, it's the hot weather!) Our judgment on hot weather conversation is shared by Cherokee County Banner's editor, a good Indian as his environment would suggest, who weatherizes thus: "Not a matter of news, but merely for the sake of keeping the record straight, and also for the information of anyone who may peruse the columns of this paper twenty years from now—we will state that the weather this week seems just a little bit hotter than is necessary. In other words, the mercury has been on very friendly terms with the 'old hundred' on the thermometer." Now isn't that incomparably better than "taking out" one's hot weather irritability on the crowd that is candidating for governor of Texas?

A Poor "Blind."

Fort Worth Star-Telegram's consistency cannot appreciate the fact that The Hague conference and European States' congresses' decisions to bolster armies and navies are contemporaneous. "So much universal peace talk," it criticizes, "and universal preparation for war look about as consistent as Mexico's recent refusal to recognize the new Chinese republic on the ground that orderly and stable government had not been established in China. The various enlightened powers ought either to quit talking peace and go ahead in a consistent way preparing for war, or quit talking war and go ahead honestly and consistently conserving peace." But perhaps these enlightened powers consider peace plans, parley and palaver indispensible as a cloak of their real purpose, threadbare as that cloak is in the vision of any intelligent person. They can't have the world noting only their war arrangements, lest fear drive the nations to indiscretions prematurely.

Our Prize President.

(Marshall Messenger.)
Waco News: San Antonio Express noted that a large picture of Editor Duhose of the Devine News appeared on the front page of that paper last week, with the title, "For fifteen years editor of the best newspaper in Medina County," and comments: "Since he admits it, we suppose the statement must be accepted as correct." Which thus moves State Press, in Dallas News: "In connection with the Express, notation, Editor Duhose explains that he was out of town when his picture was printed and was in no part responsible for its publication. State Press doesn't know Editor Duhose, therefore cannot say whether Editor Duhose is handsome enough to justify being photographed. But State Press will say this much—if Editor Duhose of Devine is any kin to Clarence Duhose of the Galveston-Dallas News we bet he is some good looking." For good-sake, Mr. President, cut out the flattery. Clarence is very young; he has carried his good looks and his ability for the better part of a quarter century without accumulating a case of magnum caput and if you continue to present him with that variety of well, Clarence is ever brewed; that Mr. Wasson is the keener editorial writer in the world, that Mr. Finty is omniscient and that you have Clemens, Brown, Ade, Dunne and Uncle Bill Sterrett lashed to the mizzen. See how easy it would be to spoil the lad? It's true, though, that except for J. Quarles of Waco, and J. Sullivan of San Antonio, Duhose is the luckiest looking in Texas' working class.

If this is to be a baby prize contest, one of the new-fangled baby shows where his royal tootums is surveyed with a tape line, air compressors, scales that tell the price, pedometers, speedometers, aerometers and thermometers, we want to enter a contestant. His hair is white, that is, somewhat. His height is about six feet. His abdominal measurement is proportionate. His teeth are home-grown. His eyes fit his complexion. His feet are mates. His heart-beats are human and loving. His flesh is firm and indicative of strong physical manhood. His cranium measurement indicates an enormous brain cavity and the way he wigwags his ideas proves that the enormous brain cavity is fully filled, and in moments of great stress or overpowering emotion, overflows at the eyes. True, he is in his second childhood, perhaps, but we contend that in life insurance first, second, third, eleventh or everlasting childhood is just as good as another. Gentlemen judges, we rise to name the very modest, extremely unassuming and genuinely genial gentleman who survives under the nom de plume of State Press (great applause). Clarence is a lovely, sweet and charming child and altogether dear, but in State Press we have the full rounded man who is yet but a darling child older grown.

PRICES DECLINE BIDS TOO HIGH

STATE PURCHASING AGENT MAY REJECT ALL BIDS FOR CRUDE AND REFINED OILS.

Austin, July 18.—State Purchasing Agent Elliott may reject all bids submitted to the department on refined and crude oils. Crude oils, as well as refined oils, have both slumped since bids were entered. The state uses approximately 30,000 barrels of crude oil per year. There has been a decline of 5 cents per barrel in this oil. Gasoline and illuminating oils have both dropped from 2 to 4 cents per gallon. There is little chance that the prices will be boosted before a rise in the market, and for this reason the purchasing agent may advertise for new bids.

Praetorians Hold Picnic At Park

With nearly a hundred enthusiastic members of the order present, Waco Praetorians, Central Texas Council No. 574 held their annual moonlight picnic last night at Cameron park. Since its inauguration, the Praetorian picnic has been one of the chief out-of-doors summer events in Waco.

The picnicers opened their baskets and spread the contents on several rough tables placed near the spring. The setting was ideal. Following the meal, several of the members made speeches showing work accomplished by the order since the last picnic. Much was said of the modern fireproof office building to be placed here by the order, and upon which work will soon be commenced. The permit for the building already has been granted by the city council.

Motion for Rehearing.
Austin, July 18.—A motion for rehearing in the case of superintendent of buildings and grounds against the Daughters of the Confederacy was filed today by Assistant Attorney General Cureton. No action can be had until next fall. The case involves the disposition of the room in the capitol occupied by the Daughters for a museum.

FIREMEN GET HIGH AVERAGE

Letters Show That Waco Is Paying Good Wages to the City Employees.

That the city of Waco is paying its fire department a higher average of wages than any city in the state, everything taken into consideration, was the statement of Mayor James H. Mackey before the commission yesterday morning.

The statement was called forth by remarks by Bob Whitehead, a member of the volunteer department, who appeared before the commission, representing, he said, the firemen of his company, No. 6, in an effort to secure an increase in wages. Whitehead stated the fire department wanted a raise, saying the fire boys work twenty-four hours a day. He compared them to the street department, whose employees worked only eight hours a day, and the police, who work twelve hours a day. He said both the police and street departments had been given a raise, and the fire department wants an increase.

Mayor Mackey wanted to know if Whitehead was making an argument before the commission, saying, "I think you are out of order." The mayor ended his statement by saying the commission was responsible only to the electorate. Commissioner Caulfield said he had made it clear the matter would be taken up in due time to include any raise in the next budget, should it be found that a raise was just. Whitehead was asked how much he got a month, and he said $15. He said he was a member of the volunteer department, and stayed at the fire station from 9 o'clock at night to 6 o'clock in the morning.

APPROPRIATION BILL

COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE HAS TWO SECTIONS READY TO REPORT.

Eleemosynary Institutions and Educational Affairs to Take the Most of the Time.

Austin, July 18.—Two divisions of the state appropriation bill have been completed by the house committee on appropriations, one is finished, tentatively and the other will be considered on Saturday and Monday. This is the present status of the appropriation bill.

The two sections already completed, the judiciary and state departments, are in the hands of the printer; the educational section was considered pending the result of the votes on the constitutional amendments, when it will be necessary to make some changes depending upon the outcome. The eleemosynary institutions demand the most time of the committee and the committee members will consider this division together with the educational division at a called session Saturday.

Chairman Louis J. Worham stated today that the appropriation committee had the judiciary division of the bill ready to submit at the regular session of the Thirty-third legislature, but it was not allowed to come up. There was little doubt, he said, but that the bill would be ready for the special session when called up.

The committee recessed from today until Sunday morning. The members, all left Austin tonight to return to their respective homes to vote in the constitutional amendment election.

After some discussion an important provision was entered in the appropriation for the judiciary of $350,000 annually for the pay of sheriffs, clerks and attorneys of the several counties. The proviso entered was that giving the comptroller the authority to disapprove claims for fees under the appropriation and return same to the district judge whose signature was on the voucher as originally approving same, with the reasons for such adverse action.

While the matter was under consideration, the proposition was made to give the comptroller full power to approve or reject claims, a power which had been exercised for years before a holding of the court recently. Agreement was finally made to return the vouchers to the district judge, and if he finally attests the vouchers the comptroller will have to pay them.

The authority to reject the voucher was taken from the comptroller by a recent decision of the state supreme court in what was known as the Rochelle case. The opinion was to the effect that after a claim had been approved by the district judge, according to the law, the comptroller had no authority to audit the same, but must issue a warrant for the full amount.

Rochelle was the sheriff of Bowie county and the comptroller held up his account on the ground that several items were illegally entered. The case was carried into court, and mandamus proceedings entered against the comptroller and he was forced to pay it.

TO SUBMIT BLUE SKY LAW

The amendment will be introduced reducing the rate of pay to $1 per day.

The attorney general has been requested to draft a bill on the blue sky law and have it ready for the governor by the time the special session is called.

By G. D. Wilson.

Merely giving his part in the winning of five straight games was not enough for Jake Dugey, so yesterday, in the absence of Manager Ellis Hardy he came to the bench after a listless workout for the winning of the game was a foregone conclusion—suffering badly from ennui. Of course Dugey would not have given the French title to the very common ailment. If he would have said, had he been asked, that he just had no pep. So he stretched himself and nudging Crichlow remarked, "Kid, let's start something."

After coming to a decision Stump went into action right off the reel and made quite a day of it. In fact he tore loose in such large bunches that those present who contributed four-bits apiece to the Waco baseball association to see an exhibition of the national pastime found themselves watching with pleasure a finished ball player run wild. Jake himself seemed to enjoy his little frolic—in fact, all concerned were well satisfied except the Panthers.

While Jake was "acting up" the visitors were doing their best to keep from leaving Waco without a game to their credit. But the entire Waco club joined in Dugey's chorus, "Everybody's Doing It," and soon there was no hope for Fort Worth.

Panthers Score First.
Before Jake was able to get things going to suit him the Panthers annexed a run in the second. In fact, it was the fifth inning before the big frame-up was put across and the locals took a lead that was never overcome, although the Panthers made a game fight, and deserved a better fate than the wrong end of a clean sweep.

An eighth-inning rally by them came near smashing Navigator plans, but their efforts were nipped in time. During the "come back" Salim tripled, yet Howard put the ball over the fence. McAvoy hit, but was killed at second. Fred Wohleben's managing record is 1.000. He had charge yesterday and no fault can be found with Dutch's style. He is usually better than the Dutch are conservative, but his attack yesterday was anything but that. Maybe it was a case of mutiny, the players taking charge of the game and running off with it, while Fred looked on. This is merely a supposition, for Fred poked his head out of the dugout twice, which indicates he knew a game was being played.

Crichlow acted as clean-up man. He has been hitting at a tremendous pace last week, and yesterday looked like his day off, but in the fifth he came to bat and saw Reilly and Dugey on. Immediately Dugey's words came to his mind, and he rapped out a two-bagger that left only himself on.

Beck didn't behave half badly for a player who is spending his last season in the Texas League. He got a two-bagger and scored on Reilly's hit in the sixth and stole a base for good measure. Beck is being watched, and has been inquired after by so many clubs the last few weeks that there is little doubt that he will be drafted. If Manager Hardy does not decide to sell him for protection of the club's interests.

Tanner Shows Up Well.
Tanner kept up his good playing, and yesterday made three good throws, got a putout and his hit started the scoring for Waco. Tanner looked better every day. His style at bat has improved a hundred per cent since the first of the season, and he is fielding like a whirlwind.

Comparisons are odious, but the catching of Reilly has been so far ahead of any visiting catcher seen here that one cannot help wondering how he has been overlooked when receivers are so badly needed in the majors. He hit 500 yesterday.

Howard for Fort Worth was the particular star. He got a homerun and a two-bagger and accepted two chances in center field.

Ashton pitched as good ball for Waco as was needed. He got the support he received and the team playing the offense it did. He allowed nine hits, but remained fairly clear of holes except in the eighth inning. Fort Worth's score came in the first as a result of two hits and a base on balls.

McCaferly allowed but seven hits before he was yanked at the end of the sixth, but his wildness helped to lose the game.

In the second for Fort Worth Eberline hit, Cronkrite went out. Kneaves hit. Wallace drove one to Beck, who threw to Wohleben, putting Wallace out and Eberline scored. Wohleben threw to Tanner, catching Kneaves. In the fifth for Waco, Tanner hit, Beck went out to the pitcher and Reilly walked and stole second as Tanner stole third. Ashton remained at bat long enough to cause Vance to let a ball pass him and Tanner scored. Reilly going to third. Ashton struck out. Dugey walked. McCaferly walked and Crichlow hit for two bases, scoring Reilly and Dugey.

In the sixth with two out, Beck hit a double and scored on Reilly's single.

Cincinnati 5, Philadelphia 3.
Philadelphia, July 18.—Cincinnati battled out a ninth-inning victory here today, defeating the locals 5 to 3. In the eighth there was much disputing of Empire Byron's decision, holding Pescher safe at second, which he stole. Doonan protesting he had touched the runner out. When Pescher later scored, the Philadelphia players refused the argument and Umpire Byron sent Manager Doonan and Moran to the club house. After the game a crowd of fans made a rush for Byron when he started for the umpire's dressing room under the grand stand. Cusheers were thrown at him and efforts were made to strike him. Umpire Boggs and policemen interfered and Byron reached his quarters safely.

BOEHLING SOME PITCHER.
A new pitching star is now attracting attention. He is Joseph Boehling, of Clark Griffith's Nationals, who has won nine straight games. Of him the Detroit News-Tribune said:—

"Now comes another pitcher to cause the critics to speculate on whether he is getting away with a phenomenal winning streak of luck or if Clark Griffith, who has had sectional success in digging up youngsters who can make good, has nursed another one into form. Boehling is a southpaw, and until within the last month or so was one of the most erratic of that order of pitchers that the game has known."

"Boehling has now pitched nine consecutive winning games, two of them shutouts, in which he went the whole way. Among his victims in this run were two of the best batting clubs in the country, the Athletics and Boston. Cleveland has beat twice within one week and New York suffered the fifth of the series of defeats."

"Right now the youngster is next to Walter Johnson in point of efficiency for Washington. If he can go along at anything like the speed he has shown recently he will be a surprise party to those who have watched his work, and will prove that any of them have a chance if properly coached."

INTEREST IN THE LIBRARY

Miss McCauley's Report Shows an Increase in Patronage—Need for Books.

That the interest in the public library is growing every month is shown by the report that was made by Miss Pauline McCauley, the librarian, at the monthly meeting of the board of directors. The library was open to the public thirty days and for the circulation of books twenty-five days. On these days there were circulated 6225 volumes, 3497 from the adult department and 2728 from the juvenile. Of the juvenile books, 2376 were charged from the desk at the library and the remaining 352 were loaned at the South Eighth street and Brook avenue schools and at Edgeland park and the Evangelical settlement. The 2376 charged at the library shows an increase of 829 over the month of May, 1913, and of 172 over June, 1912. Applications were made for 177 cards, 168 of which were children, 35 more than applied during May. Of the 177 applications, 21 were renewals of old cards. The attendance in the reading rooms on the Sundays of June was 189, 118 of whom were men, 24 women and 47 children. The story hour attendance for the month was 265. Miss Leta Pharr, who has had charge of the story telling, left for New York the middle of the month to study at Columbia university. In her absence, Miss Carrie Wemyss is conducting the story telling. In the mending department 411 volumes were cleaned and repaired. During the month 186 volumes were added to the library, 18 of these being gifts from the following: Baylor university, Daniel Baker college, Mrs. J. T. Seery and Mrs. F. M. Miller. Of the 186 volumes purchased, 35 were fiction which pays for itself in the loan collection before being placed in the regular collection, 35 volumes were for the general collection in the adult department, and 95 were for the little children. Miss Pauline McCauley, the librarian, says: "The children's room needs to be restocked with books for the older boys and girls who are constantly asking for books that are not in our collection or the one copy we do have is 'out'. Very soon the schools will be calling for books that we cannot supply with our present number of volumes. This seems deplorable since, if the library once loses its hold on the children it is practically impossible to get them interested again. In addition to children's books we should have more reference books, as well as material on municipal affairs, sociology, religion, education, science, literature, and on other subjects without which the library cannot extend its usefulness to the degree that it owes the public. However, books cannot be procured without funds and such a great proportion of our appropriation has been used for necessary expenses connected with the building during the past few months that an extremely small amount has been left for books. "No books were circulated at Edgeland park in May. On investigation it was found that the borrowers in the district were under the impression that the circulation of books was to be discontinued. Personal notes were written to all the borrowers whose cards had been left at the station informing them that books would be loaned every Wednesday afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock. The three Wednesdays remaining in June show a circulation of 77 books." Miss Hutchenrider, the first assistant, has been absent during the month on her vacation. In addition to her vacation, she has a month leave of absence. Both months she is spending in study at the New York State library school.

CITY PAVING MATTERS.

Herring Avenue Valuations Not Sufficient to Justify Levy. Commissioner Casfield was authorized yesterday to advertise for bids for the construction of 300 feet of cement sidewalk on South Fifth street, opposite Carroll park. The city attorney reported yesterday that the petition for paving North Sixteenth street from Herring avenue to McKinzie street would have to be refused, as the assessment records show the property not rendered at sufficient value to pave. He stated the property had been improved since the assessments were rendered and was probably of sufficient value to call for pavement, but the records do not show this. Pavement on Colcord avenue from Eighteenth street to Twenty-fifth street has been accepted by the commission, and Flannigan Bros. & Pritchett, contractors, were released from their construction bond.

TO GET EXPERT ADVICE.

Gibbs of Valley Mills Not Satisfied with Amount Offered. H. J. Gibbs of Valley Mills, whose car was damaged when an automobile of the fire department crashed into it on Austin street more than a month ago, was before the city commission again yesterday morning relative to a settlement. A mix-up resulted in Mr. Gibbs being offered $332 as a settlement several meetings ago, which he accepted. Later it was learned that the expert's report on his car was to the effect it could be repaired for $360. Mr. Gibbs appeared before the commission with the statement that the machinist whom he had employed to repair the car had estimated the repairs more than that amount. The matter was referred to Commissioner Dolins with instructions to have Frank Britton, a local expert, go to Valley Mills and again view the damaged car.

ADDRESS TO NEWSBOYS.

Dr. Graves Tells of Thrilling Experiences in Philippines.

In one of the most interesting addresses that has been made to the Newsboys and Messenger Boys' club for several months, Dr. J. H. Graves last night gave a vivid description of some of his thrilling escapes from the Filipino natives while doing duty in the islands as a member of the United States hospital corps.

The maneuvers to which he resorted in order to save his life when it looked like every avenue of escape was closed proved highly entertaining to the boys and those who work with them as well, and the boys invited the doctor to come back and address them again some time, which he agreed to do.

He also asked the boys to feel free to call upon him when he could be of any service to them.

Boiler of Locomotive Explodes; Two Dead

Houston, July 18.—Engineer Alfred Tyler and Fireman G. S. Montamat, both of Houston, were instantly killed and Mall Clerks Shannon and Wofford and several others injured, none fatally, shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, when the locomotive drawing Texas & New Orleans passenger train No. 11, westbound, exploded with terrific force at Fauna, eleven miles east of Houston. The baggage and mail cars were derailed, but the other coaches kept the track. The train was due in Houston at 9 a. m. but was nearly three hours late. At the T. & N. O. general offices it is stated that while the train did not stop at Fauna it had slowed up and was passing through when the explosion came. Information there is that no passengers were seriously injured. Both of the dead railroad men left families.

Mr. Geo. Dole Wadley

President Southern States Cotton Corporation Returns From Europe

Announces That All Arrangements Have Been Made to Finance the Cotton for 1913.

Only Remains for the Cotton Grower to Do His Part to Make 15c Cotton a Certainty.

The arrival of Mr. George Dole Wadley, president Southern States Cotton Corporation, from Europe is an event of unusual importance to the entire South, carrying with it the assurance that all arrangements have been made for financing the cotton under the plan of the corporation. Mr. Wadley stated:

"I found no difficulty in reaching people who were not only able but willing to undertake this business. The point to be settled was the amount of financing which would be necessary. My proposition was that they enter into a firm contract with me on the part of the Southern States Cotton Corporation for financing five hundred thousand bales of cotton, that they were to give me a supplementary paper which would state upon the fulfillment of the contract by the Southern States Cotton Corporation they would then finance any additional amount of cotton on the same terms which the Southern States Cotton Corporation might be able to deliver. This contract was accepted, duly signed by us, and certified to by the American consul."

"After the contract had been signed one of the gentlemen who is party to it stated to me that he believed when the Southern States Cotton Corporation had delivered the five hundred thousand bales of cotton, and that the world knew positively that we were able to finance the cotton in any amount there would be no necessity for any larger loans, although they would be prepared to make them; that he believed the security of cotton under the plan of the Southern States Cotton Corporation the best collateral for loans of anything he knew."

"As a result of these negotiations I believe that the Southern people can now secure the value for their cotton and it only remains for them to sell to the corporation under the terms of the contract their cotton in any amount. If this is done in sufficient quantities to establish the price of 15 cents per pound, the cotton raisers of the South have in the future nobody to blame but themselves."

CONTRACT YOUR COTTON—ATTEND THE GREAT CONVENTION, DALLAS, JULY 10-12, and see for yourself the wonderful progress of the plan throughout the South.

HOW MAILOS GO INTO MEXICO

Superintendent S. M. Gaines Issues Circular Giving Information on Postal Facilities.

Fort Worth, July 18.—So numerous have been the inquiries relative to the handling of mails into Mexico that S. M. Gaines, superintendent of the eleventh division of the railway mail service, has issued a circular letter telling of the conditions under which the mails are being dispatched for the republic. There is no through train service from a Texas-Mexico border point to postoffices in the interior of Mexico except some points south of Piedras Negras, in the state of Coahuila. Mr. Gaines' letter in part is:

Mail that can be dispatched into Mexico from the Texas-Mexico border is as follows:

At Brownsville: Matamoros, Mexico.
At Laredo: Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.
At Eagle Pass: Mail for all offices between Eagle Pass and Monclova, Mexico, on the National railways and also inland offices supplied from those places.

At El Paso: Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.
For the states and territories located on the Pacific coast side, or west of the Sierra Madre mountains, the following dispatches are made:

At Nogales, Ariz.: Mexican offices on the Nacozari branch of the Southern Pacific railway.
At Douglas, Ariz.: Mexican offices on the Southern Pacific railway of Mexico, between Nogales, Ariz., and Guaymas, Mexico. This provides for the supply of all offices in the state of Sonora, except Guaymas.

Mail for Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, is forwarded via San Diego or San Francisco, Cal., according to the first sailing, with frequency about twice monthly.
Mail for the state of Sinaloa and Territory of Tepic is also forwarded in the same manner as mail for Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico.

Practically all other mail for the Republic of Mexico is dispatched via Jacksonville, Fla., Key West, Fla., and Havana, Cuba, connecting with a Ward line steamer from New York to Vera Cruz, Mexico; the boat leaving Havana, Cuba, about 4 p. m. on Mondays of each week.

This situation of dispatching mail is caused by the unsettled conditions in the Republic of Mexico. Advantage, however, is taken of every opportunity to advance the mail by the postoffice department of this country.

A Christian Endeavor Lunch.

The plan of serving a light lunch between the church services and the Christian Endeavor meetings works successfully in the Woodlawn Park Presbyterian society, Chicago. The work is in charge of the social committee, a different person being assigned to the task each week. A basket is placed on the table for small silver coins, and the contributions almost invariably offset the expense incurred.—E. P. Gates in C. E. World.

The International Field Secretary.

It was a great disappointment to Texas Endeavorers that Karl Lehman, the international secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, who was making a tour of the state, was suddenly called to Denver owing to the serious illness of his wife. However, Mr. Lehman was able to return to Texas in time for the state convention, where he had conferences on the junior work, the efficiency campaign and delivered an address on "The Future of Christian Endeavor." Mr. Lehman wins the hearts of the young people with his enthusiasm and his thorough knowledge of Christian endeavor. He made an effort to have Mr. Lehman return in the fall and spend six weeks in Texas especially in the interest of the Junior department and visit every part of the state.

Christian Endeavor Clippings.

The six societies of the Kingston, N. Y., union have placed Bibles in every room of every hotel in the city. Five hundred Bibles were used for this purpose.

Ornamental Lighting System.

Galveston, July 18.—Galveston county last night presented to the city an ornamental lighting system which has just been completed along a two-story wooden school building 62x72 feet. The lower floor to contain four class rooms and the upper story to contain two class rooms and an auditorium. Each building must be accompanied by a certified check or bond for 10 per cent of the contract price, made in favor of the school trustees as a guarantee of good faith. ## International Sunday School Lesson

Moses Called to Deliver Israel.

Third Quarter, Lesson III.

Exodus 3:1-4, 20. July 20, 1913.

After an absence of four centuries the signs of Divine presence blazes out once more. Its last appearance was the "lamp of fire" which swung low between the fragments of Abraham's dismembered sacrifice. The ineffable voice heard last by Jacob at Beer-sheba as he journeyed to meet his long-lost son, now breaks its protracted silence. Light and voice fall upon eye and ear of a solitary shepherd far down the Sinai Peninsula. . . . Were we looking for a deliverer for captive Israel, we would hardly have traversed the wildernesses of Shur, Paran and Ethnan to find him. We would not be likely to have gone so to the tribe of Midian, so spiritless and destitute of resources. We would not have selected a meek and peace-loving shepherd. . . . But God seeth not as man seeth. A better educator could not be conceived of than that very herdsman kneeling before that green bush transmuting into a flaming shrine. Moses knew Egypt, not the mere "lay of the land," but Egypt's language, literature, law, custom. He knew the points most likely to be vulnerable in the character or administration of any Pharaoh. He knew his fellow countrymen, their strength and weakness. He was familiar with every inch of the Sinai Peninsula, from point to point of which he was to lead the emancipated nation for forty years. . . . But this knowledge, after all, was merely incidental. Moses' real qualification was his religiousness. It is too much to believe that it was this which led him to the sanctuary of the desert in very hopes that there Jehovah would break his silence and communicate his will? The prepared message came then as ever to the prepared mind. . . . Never was more striking illustration of the Divine affirmation, "My strength is made perfect in his personal inadequacy to the tremendous task of freeing a wholly dispirited people from the most invincible despotism, drove him to implicit obedience and trust in Jehovah. Forty years of exile, too, had inured him to trying vicissitudes, and made him much enduring (meek) above all men." He was a graduate thoroughly equipped from God's school of adversity. His wonder-working rod was his diploma. . . . As a few months later, in this very moment, his face toward Canaan and three million liberated serfs at his back, he prayed, "If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence," so now, with his face toward Egypt and his mighty task clearly outlined before him, he invoked the Divine presence, and there came the assuring response, "Certainly I will be with thee." Enough! Pharaoh and all his serried legions are as the exceeding fine dust of the balance.

The Teacher's Lantern.

A long leap, that from the papyrus ark to the shaggy acacia—the one floating, with its precious burden, on the Nile; the other burning with theophanic splendor on the brow of Sinai. The span is eighty years in time and two hundred odd miles in space. That arch covers the double tutelage of the boy Moses, the training of the court in all Egypt's wisdom, and of his mother in the pious annals of the patriarchs. It covers the sublime self-oblivion which rejected the treasures of Egypt for the affliction of God's people—the premature effort at emancipation the flight into Midian, where, awful solitudes were educative in themselves. . . . Elijah and Paul undoubtedly went for training to this self-same school of nature, where granite cliffs and silent canyons are teachers. The Tishbite prophet fled from the scant shelter of his juniper tree to Herob, the Mount of God, and the Christian apostle says, "I went into Arabia," and speaks of Mt. Sinai as only an eye-witness could. . . . The thorn-bush well symbolized the status of captive Israel. It burned, but was not consumed—Israel was like asbestos. Egypt's furnace, heated seven times hotter than wont, failed to consume Abraham's seed. The tyrant's wrath praised God, and his excess He restrained. . . . The humble symbol of Moses' exile life, his shepherd's

BLACK LAND FARMS IN THE BISHOP COUNTRY, RICH SOIL, LOW INTEREST, REASONABLE

TERMS—Bountiful cotton and feed crops are assured in the Bishop country by the splendid rains. Farmers who are cultivating their lands for the second and third years, are counting on a bountiful crop, and are ready to prospect. The farmers who are building up this rich section are, with few exceptions, experienced Texas black land farmers, who have come from Central and North Texas, to take part in developing of this territory and reap good profits from their industry.

Here they have bought land at reasonable prices, as others are doing, with SIX PER CENT INTEREST on their deferred payments, and the land is turned to them broken, ready for cultivation. Another feature: On sales made at this time, after the first cash payment is made, no other payment is to be made until November 1, 1915. After that date payments are made annually and run until November 1, 1921.

All notes are made payable "ON OR BEFORE," so that the purchaser can take them up in whole or in part, as they may be able or inclined.

It is no exaggeration to say that the amount now being paid as rent by many farmers will practically take care of deferred payments on Bishop land, after the first payment is made.

The city of Bishop, only three years old, has a population of approximately 2,000; it is the center of this rich black land farming section, which has been christened "THE BISHOP COUNTRY," and already has magnificent schools, a complete modern sewerage system, graded streets, cement sidewalks, a splendid hotel and more than 200 miles of good roads leading along all section lines and making the city easily accessible to the thrifty farmers who live along the roads. Bishop has an abundant and pure artesian water supply, good churches and all the advantages, even more, than are possessed by many cities of 10,000 population.

Full and reliable information about both country and city can be had by writing or call in person.

COTTON MARKET

RENEWED NERVOUSNESS SENDS PRICES HIGHER DURING THE DAY.

October Contracts Make New High Ground—Old Crop Positions Were Dull.

New York, July 18.—Renewed nervousness over the new crop situation sent the cotton market higher during today's trading, with October contracts making new high ground for the movement. Old crop positions were relatively dull and easy under a little speculative liquidation, attributed to the circulation of a few July notices, but recovered early losses and the general list closed very steady, net unchanged to 12 points higher.

After selling some 5 to 6 points up on new crop positions, demand slackened, but the detailed weather reports, showing very high temperatures in the eastern belt, started fresh buying and the market reached the best point of the day in the late trading.

Bullish week-end figures may have contributed to the recovery of the near months, but the detailed weather reports, showing very high temperatures in the eastern belt, started fresh buying and the market reached the best point of the day in the late trading.

A prominent Georgia authority, reviewing crop conditions during the week, said they had been favorable over 80 per cent of the belt, unfavorable over 10 per cent and injurious to the balance, but more numerous reports of deterioration were received from scattering points in the western belt, and late in the afternoon there seemed to be some bull support, as prices showed a continued demand from shorts.

Liverpool attributed the decline there to a smaller spot demand and continental selling.

New Orleans, July 18.—The cotton market today on reports of hot winds in the western belt and the unexpectedly good showing made by mill takings. The best part of the advance was in the afternoon. In the morning there was little buying and prices made insignificant changes. In the afternoon, however, a heavy wind from the south and together with the drought and high temperatures were playing havoc with the crop. Mill takings were put by the week last year and 12,000 of the week two years ago. These two factors sent prices of the most active months 14 to 15 points over yesterday's close. Business was chiefly in the new crop months.

The dry weather map and the forecast of more fair weather stimulated buying moderately and checked off a few of short cotton. Considerable new cotton was reported in Texas, but it had little effect on the market because of the claim of the bulls that the market was a good demand for it. At noon the market was 5 points up after the posting of the weekly statistics and the receipt of hot wind news the market strengthened decidedly. The close was firm at a net gain of 8 to 13 points.

One Killed, One Hurt, Mules Crushed to Death When Bridge Gives Way

When the approach to a bridge across the Bosque river on the William W. Cameron summer home place, three miles northwest of Waco, gave way under the weight of a heavily loaded wagon yesterday afternoon one man was killed, another badly injured and the four-mule team was crushed to death.

Film Walker, negro driver, was caught beneath the weight of the animals. His death was instant. John Henry Austin, a negro laborer, who was seated at the rear of the wagon, was caught beneath falling bridge timbers. He was badly crushed and may die. The four mules were instantly killed.

The accident occurred just as the wagon passed upon the approach to the bridge.

The team had gained a footing on the steel span, and the wagon, loaded with sand, had just passed onto the approach when the wood and earth-work, of which the approach was constructed, gave way. The falling wagon dragged the mules after it, and men, wagon and team plunked for a distance of twenty-five feet into the river. Fortunately, there was little water in the stream, or Austin might not have escaped death.

Walker was caught between the wagon and the mules. His death was instantaneous. When assistance reached the scene of the accident he was lying beneath the bodies of the mules, an inert mass. His injuries were internal, his chest being crushed. Austin was lying with pieces of the broken bridge across his body. He is terribly bruised and crushed. He may live.

The bridge at the point where the accident occurred is a considerable distance from the bottom of the river. The approach is of woodwork and earth, while the main span is of steel. The body of the dead man was brought to Waco and is held at the Fall Undertaking establishment, where

COMMISSION NAMES COATES

East Side Man Appointed Member of Water Board—Succeeds Wilkins, Resigned.

Frank M. Coates of the East Side was appointed a member of the water commission yesterday morning. Mr. Coates succeeds M. E. Wilkins, who resigned a month ago after eight years' service on the board. Mayor James H. Mackey nominated Mr. Coates and he was immediately elected. Commissioner T. A. Caulfield then reached him over the phone and tendered him the position. Mr. Coates accepted.

Mr. Coates is connected with R. G. Wright & Son of East Waco and is one of the well known citizens of that section of the city.

Anderson Goes Through.

H. F. Anderson, general superintendent of the Katy, passed through Waco yesterday on his way to Dallas headquarters.

School Board Awards Fuel and Furniture Contracts to Bidders

Contract for the supply of coal to be used by the public schools during the coming winter, and contract for approximately 1500 new school desks have been let by the school board. The Waco Fuel and Grain company secured the contract to furnish the city 425 tons of coal. The bid was $5.25 per ton for McAlister domestic lump, $3.95 for chestnut and $4.30 for nut coal. The bid was made for coal to be delivered in the bins. Also another provision of the bids was the requirement that all coal delivered should be passed over city weights. This has not been the custom in the past, the board merely reserving the right to have each load of coal weighed if it saw fit. Delivery under the recent bid, however, calls for each load to be passed over city scales.

This provision was inserted in the request for bids at the suggestion of one of the coal companies bidding. Contract for desks was awarded to the Southwestern Seating company, with Texas headquarters at San Antonio. In all 1568 single school desks were purchased, the total price aggregating $3,741.76. In addition, twenty-four teachers' desks were purchased, the total cost aggregating approximately $250.

The single desks are what are known as the Peabody school desks. They are to be placed as follows: In four rooms of the South Eighth street school, two rooms of the East Waco school, six rooms of the Sanger avenue school, seven rooms of the North Waco school and in six other rooms in various buildings.

The board also let the contract for the installation of window shades at the North Waco school building, R. T. Dennis & Co. secured the contract. In all, about 220 shades will be put in at this and at other buildings.

J. M. Freeman & Son were instructed to order text books for the next term.

RESIDENCES TO BE RENUMBERED

WHERE THEY VOTE IN WACO

Judges in the City—Explanation of the Various Questions to Be Submitted.

Election to vote on proposed amendments to the state constitution will be held today. Election material and boxes have been sent to the various precincts in McLennan county by the county clerk.

From indications the vote in the county will be very light, interest in the proposed measures not being strong.

The following will be the polling places within the city of Waco: First ward, city hall.

Second ward, West End fire station, Third ward, building at 223 South Eighth street.

Fourth ward, Navigator hotel. Fifth ward, Fifth ward fire station. Sixth ward, Ninth street fire station.

Seventh ward, city hall. Eighth ward, city hall.

First ward, John C. Walton, Oscar Camptson, J. M. Carter and Joe W. Taylor Jr.

Second ward, Charles Evans, John J. Marshall, C. K. Miller and Henry Lindner.

Third ward, H. M. Standefer, J. G. Fennelle, Harry Sneed and W. T. Gooch.

Fourth ward, J. A. Leftwich, W. H. Davis Jr., John Moore and C. W. Lewis.

Fifth ward, Will Reese, R. C. Wright, P. M. Mullens and Billie Wade.

Sixth ward, George P. Bird, J. W. Dudley, S. P. Mills and J. W. Weaver.

The law provides that where any election judge or clerk is unable to perform his duties, the clerk present may select some one to serve in his stead.

The following are the various amendments to be voted on today:

Amendment As to Judiciary.

The first amendment in the general election will be the amendment of section 7, article 5 of the constitution.

By the proposed amendment, each county shall have a district judge, or as many as prescribed by law. He shall have been a resident lawyer for a period of six years before his election, must have resided in his district for two years preceding election and shall hold office for a term of four years, receiving as his compensation $3000 per annum. This amendment also gives the legislature power to provide for the holding of district court when the judge is away or disabled.

Those favoring this amendment will vote: "For the amendment of section 7, article 5 of the constitution of the state of Texas relating to district judges and district courts."

Those opposed to the proposition will vote: "Against the amendment of section 7, article 5 of the constitution of the state of Texas relating to district judges and district courts."

Fee System Amendment.

The second amendment will be as regards the payment of salaries of county, district and state officials, or the adoption of section 58, article 16, of the constitution, the salaries to be fixed by the state legislature. This means in part the abolishment of the fee system. In many instances the adoption of the amendment will not change the salaries of precinct, county and state officials. It provides, however, that the official has received a certain sum in compensation for his services, the remainder of his fees, which he received under the old law, will go to the state.

The ballot on this proposition will read: "For the adoption of section 58, article 16, as an amendment to the constitution, providing a salary compensation for certain officers and fixing their term of office at four years."

Those favoring the amendment will scratch the paragraph beginning with "Against the adoption of section 58, article 16, as an amendment to the constitution providing a salary compensation for certain officers and fixing their term of office at four years."

Those opposed to the amendment will scratch the paragraph beginning with "Against the adoption of section 58, article 16, as an amendment to the constitution providing a salary compensation for certain officers and fixing their term of office at four years."

Bonding Amendment.

The third amendment to be voted on relates to the issuance of bonds. Under this amendment the legislature, however, shall have power to authorize the issuance of bonds for the purpose of purchasing additional ground and erect necessary buildings for the University of Texas, including a medical department, an agricultural and mechanical college, and all departments and activities of a complete university of the first class. The revenue received from the permanent university fund shall be available for the payment of interest on these bonds, and for the creation of a sinking fund for their redemption at maturity, and the legislature shall also have power to issue bonds for the construction of necessary buildings for state institutions.

The legislature shall also have the power to authorize the issuance of bonds secured by lien on the real property of the university system to be approved by the governor for the purpose of constructing buildings and making permanent improvements.

Section 52 provides for the issuance of bonds in county and districts. The legislature will have no power to authorize any county, city or political corporation to extend its credit. The bill provides that bonds may be issued for improvements in those districts, provided, however, district or territory shall "here its credit in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such district or territory, except in case of improvement of rivers, creeks and steamers, in building of levees to prevent overflow, in which case the bonded indebtedness may be for any amount not to exceed one-half of the assessed valuation of the lands of the district to be reclaimed."

Summary of Amendment.

This amendment contains four subdivisions as follows:

First—The improvement of rivers, creeks and streams to prevent overflows and to permit of navigation thereof, or irrigation therefrom, or in aid of such purposes.

Second—The construction and maintenance of pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals and waterways for the purpose of irrigation, drainage or navigation or in aid thereof.

Third—The construction, maintenance and operation of bridge and macadamized, graveled, sandy-clay or

After a wait of many months, correct numbers are to be placed on residences on Herring avenue and all streets north of Herring avenue. The city commission yesterday morning approved a plat, designating how houses in that section of the city should be numbered, presented by City Engineer George Byars. The plat shows the correct numbering of houses on Herring avenue from Fifth to Twenty-third street, so as to make the numbers correspond to those on houses on streets running parallel with Herring and also on all streets north of Herring.

The commission was petitioned some days ago by residents of that section of the city to have the houses renumbered, complaint being made that under the present enumeration it was almost impossible to find the house desired.

The plat was referred to the city attorney with instructions to draft suitable ordinance or resolution providing for the changes.

CLEAN-UP IS ORDERED

STREETS, ALLEYS AND PRIVATE PROPERTY MUST BE FREED OF TRASH AND FILTH.

Write Wings Force Will Be Increased. Spare No Expense to Get Sanitation.

A general clean-up campaign is to be inaugurated immediately by the city health and police departments, and special men will be employed to see that the orders of the health department are executed.

At the meeting of the city commission yesterday morning, the sanitary inspector was authorized to employ a force of twelve or more men and a foreman to begin immediately in cutting the weeds and cleaning up the alleys in all parts of the city. Six special inspectors of private premises were also authorized appointed, these to inspect the back yards and lots in all sections of the city and issue notices that all filth and unsanitary matter shall be hauled away. The two forces of men are to begin work at once and the campaign is to be continued until August 1.

The added advantage of the next trip over the previous ones is that two of the lines of railroads which reach Waco will be traversed. The trip to Cleburne will be made over the Katy lines and the return trip will be over the Santa Fe. In this manner, double the number of towns can be visited in the day. On the going trip the towns of West, Abbott, Hillsboro, Itasca, Grandview and Alvarado will be visited, and on the return trip from Cleburne over the Santa Fe will give the Waco delegation the privilege of visiting Kepler, Rio Vista, Blum, Meridian, Clifton, Valley Mills, Crawford and McGregor.

The Y. M. B. L. has been in communication with a number of the towns to be visited. At West, where the first stop is to be made, it is said the Waco bunch will be given a big reception. Hillsboro, also friendly to Waco, has promised a big turnout to meet the Waco folk, and Cleburne's Commercial club secretary has assured the Y. M. B. L. folk that something interesting in the way of a big dinner and a hearty welcome awaits the Waco delegation.

His letters to the local club are ready to the effect that Cleburne is ready to establish a more friendly feeling with Waco, and the local delegates can expect the glad hand in that city.

Meridian has written that automobiles will be ready to carry the delegates over that city.

The fare for the last trip will be $3. The other trips were $4, the league agreeing to run the four for $15. This includes cigars, sandwiches, cold drinks, ice cream and other delicacies. A good schedule has been prepared, and good equipment has been provided.

City Will Trade If Orman Willing

In an effort to settle the lawsuit which is now pending between the city of Waco and W. R. Orman, the city is willing to deed to Mr. Orman a strip of land 8x165 feet, extending from Washington street on the west side of where First street would run if extended, in lieu of Orman deeding to the city the remainder of the land now in contest. Should Mr. Orman refuse this proposal the city will contest the suit.

This was the decision reached by the city commission yesterday morning when the matter of reaching a settlement of the suit was brought up. Mr. Orman had appeared at a previous meeting and stated he would accept the offer if the city would accept the settlement.

Mr. Orman had asked previously for the strip 8x165, should a settlement be reached.

The city is suing Orman for a portion of land known as the Commons, lying along the river east of First street line and north of Washington street. A number of proposals and counter proposals have been made. The offer agreed upon by the city yesterday, it is said, will be the last made and if not accepted the case will be allowed to take its course in the courts.

FOURTH TRADE TRIP ABATE DUST NUISANCE

THE Y. M. B. L. WILL GO NEXT THURSDAY TO CLEBURN. REQUEST IS MADE COTTON BELT.

Will Make Katy Towns Going and Santa Fe Towns Coming Back. Crowd Expected.

As the last trade journey of the year the trip planned by the Young Men's Business League to Cleburne Thursday next, promises to surpass the three that have gone before, in numbers, as well as in the towns visited. The trip besides being the last of the one-day trips of the present year is the seventeenth trip made by the organization.

The added advantage of the next trip over the previous ones is that two of the lines of railroads which reach Waco will be traversed. The trip to Cleburne will be made over the Katy lines and the return trip will be over the Santa Fe. In this manner, double the number of towns can be visited in the day. On the going trip the towns of West, Abbott, Hillsboro, Itasca, Grandview and Alvarado will be visited, and on the return trip from Cleburne over the Santa Fe will give the Waco delegation the privilege of visiting Kepler, Rio Vista, Blum, Meridian, Clifton, Valley Mills, Crawford and McGregor.

The Y. M. B. L. has been in communication with a number of the towns to be visited. At West, where the first stop is to be made, it is said the Waco bunch will be given a big reception. Hillsboro, also friendly to Waco, has promised a big turnout to meet the Waco folk, and Cleburne's Commercial club secretary has assured the Y. M. B. L. folk that something interesting in the way of a big dinner and a hearty welcome awaits the Waco delegation.

His letters to the local club are ready to the effect that Cleburne is ready to establish a more friendly feeling with Waco, and the local delegates can expect the glad hand in that city.

Meridian has written that automobiles will be ready to carry the delegates over that city.

The fare for the last trip will be $3. The other trips were $4, the league agreeing to run the four for $15. This includes cigars, sandwiches, cold drinks, ice cream and other delicacies. A good schedule has been prepared, and good equipment has been provided.

Ad Club to Have Permanent Rooms

In keeping with the progressive spirit of this city, the Waco Ad Club will fit up its own club rooms in the very near future. This matter is now being discussed by the members and it is proposed to get a long lease on a suitable building and fit it up for the comfort and convenience of the members of the club and their friends. As it is now the club has no regular meeting place and its membership has grown so large under the direction of the present officers there is an imperative need of convenient quarters of the club.

At the next meeting this question will be taken up and discussed by the members and a full attendance is desired. It is the intention of those who are organizing the question that a club room be fitted up for the purpose of holding meetings, serving lunches, etc., and to fit the place so that the members can take their friends who might be visiting in the city to these club rooms and entertain them there. Such a place is badly needed and it would give the club a better standing among those of the state.

President Mitchell desires that all members be present at the next regular meeting so that they may express themselves regarding this subject.

High Bids Hang Contract Awards

PRICES TOO HIGH, SAYS ENGINEER—FUEL BIDS REFERRED TO DOLLARS.

Contract for the construction of the storm sewer at Eighteenth and Columbus streets, to be constructed by the city prior to paving Eighteenth street, was not let yesterday morning, although bids were opened. Two bids were submitted. E. C. Youmans bid $5074 and Burt & Lysle bid $4254, the latter bid being 190 lower. However, the engineers' department considered the bids were higher than they should be. The matter was referred to Commissioner Foster, with instructions to take it up personally with the bidders.

The estimate asked by the city was figures on the construction of a storm sewer at Eighteenth and Columbus streets for the drainage at that point, and also for a storm sewer down Cleveland to Fifth street, a distance of about a block or a block and a half.

Bids Made.

Contract for furnishing the city fire department with coal also was not let, although bids were asked. The following bids were received and referred to Commissioner Dollars: Waco Fuel & Grain Co., McAlester lump $5.25, Spadra lump $6.50, W. D. Lacy Coal Co., McAlester lump $4.40, McAlester commercial $6.10, Wilburton domestic $5.90, commercial $5.60, Arkansas Spadra, domestic lump $6.70, and Arkansas Spadra egg $4.95.

Refund of Pound Fees.

J. H. Summers was yesterday refunded $6, an amount paid out by him for pound fees. Summers petitioned the commission for a refund of the fees paid on mules impounded. He stated a fire near his place compelled him to release the animals and they were taken up by the poundman. This is the first instance in many months that a pound fee has been refunded, being the only one to come within the rule for refunds.
